IN ZURICH . . .

Israeli Jetliner Riddled

Zurich, Switzerland (AP) — Striking from behind a runway snowbank, four Arab guerrillas, one of them a young woman, raked an Israeli El Al jetliner with submachine-gun fire as it taxied for a take off to Tel Aviv Tuesday night.

One of the attackers was shot dead by an Israel security agent who jumped from the plane through an emergency hatch after the first bursts of fire and surprised the ambushers.

Airport security guards had to overpower the Israeli to keep him from shooting the other Arab raiders, all of whom were captured.

6 Said Wounded

Swiss authorities said six persons aboard the Boeing 720 airliner were wounded, two seriously, but that all the hospitalided victims were out of danger.

El Al officials in Tel Aviv reported only two persons wounded, both members of the crew.

Soon after the attack on the Amsterdam-Tel Aviv flight, the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine, a pro-Marxist guerrilla grup based in Jordan, issued a communique assuming "full responsiblity" for the attack.

Called Reprisal

The front contended that the attack was a reprisal for "brutality and torture" committed by Israeli authorities against Arab civilians in occupied territory.

Among the 17 passengers and 10 crewmen aboard the Israeli plane bound for Tel Aviv was Gideon Rafael, director general of the Israeli Foreign Office. He was unhurt.

The incident brought swift reaction in world capitals and diplomatic circles:

—U.N. Secretary-General U Thant condemned the raid and expressed hope there would be no Israeli reprisal, such as occurred on Beirut International Airport after the Athens attack.

—Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban said in Jerusalem that the attack "demonstrated the murderous characteristics" of the Arab guerrilla organizations. Informed sources said a high-level meeting of Israeli officials had been called fror Wednesday to consider what steps to take.

—A State Department spokesman in Washington said the United States "deeply regrets and deplores today's senseless attack."

—The Swiss government ordered a probe of the shooting and the cabinet called a meeting in Bern to discuss the affair.

Crash Unleashed Fatal Ammonia

. . . 8 KNOWN DEAD

By DEAN TERRILL
Southeast Nebraska Bureau

Crete — Eerie floodlights and metalic sounds from railroad salvage crews added to the tenseness as Crete's citizenry bedded down Tuesday night following one of its most tragic days.

An early morning Burlington Railroad freight derailment left at least eight persons dead, hospitalized at least 18 others and inflicted minor injuries to some two dozen. Most of the victims were felled by escaping anhydrous ammonia — a gaseous farm fertilizer that is deadly when inhaled in quantities.

The unexplained derailment about 6:30 a.m. sent boxcars careening into three ammonia cars, which were on a Burlington siding at the town's west edge along Highway 33. When one ruptured, hurling heavy steel up to half a block, gas enveloped adjacent residences almost instantaneously.

The dead, most of them found sprawled outside their homes, included:

—Louie Erdman and his wife, Maxine, an elderly couple who operated the Crete Cleaners.

—Ron Hatchett, 21, Doane College football star from Chicago, and his four-year-old daughter, Gloria Jean.

—Lyle Safranek, 23, an employe of Allen's Products Co. of Crete.

—Three men still unidentified, believed to be transients riding one of the boxcars.

Saline County Atty-Bernard Ach said the three men had only 11 cents among them. He said two Social Security numbers and one Selective Service number were found. Telegrams were sent to Baltimore, Md., in an attempt to obtain identification.

The injured from Crete, hospitalized at the Crete Hospital, were identified Tuesday night as:

Mrs. Ethelene Hatchett, Mrs. Sonya Safranek and son, Brian; Mrs. Delma Svarc and daughter, Judy; Robert Kvasnicka, Robert Kovar, Joe Hoesche, Frank Hoesche, Freida Hoesche, Frank Prozak, treated and released; Mrs. Frank (Carolyn) Prozak, Mrs. Bess Lanham, Jerome Schnell, Frank Novak.

Also hospitalized were two Lincoln train crewmen, conductor Frank E. Coffman, 2021 North 63rd, and brakeman Chester Weber, 2415 North 67th. The latter is in Lincoln General Hospital and listed as "fair."

Two Crete residents hospitalized in Lincoln were identified as William Huntley, 37, who was in intensive care at Lincoln General and Mrs. Conrad Meier, who was at Bryan Memorial. Her husband was treated and released.

Despite assurances from Mayor George Plessman that "the crisis is passed," residents remained edgy as the Burlington began transferring ammonia from the two other cars. A persistent strong odor cast suspicion that gas might be leaking from one.

"To assure the utmost safety, we elected to transfer the gas rather than move the cars and take a chance on rupturing one," said division Supt. W. S. Johnston of Lincoln. "We feel that the danger is past, but the area will remain evacuated as a precaution."

Approximately 200 persons were unable to return to their homes, Plessman said at an impromptu press conference. Also participating were Gov. Norbert Tiemann, Adjutant General Lyle Welsh and State Sen. Willard Waldo.

Backing up local volunteers was a small army of National Guardsmen, State Patrolmen and staffers from the state fire marshal's office, State Health Department, Department of Agriculture and the Red Cross. At least a dozen surrounding communities also sent personnel.

Asked if an investigation might result from several recent accidents at the site, Tiemann replied that "if it so requires, we will look into it." Reportedly there have been at least three such derailments over the past few years.

Plessman, describing the tragedy as "the worst we've had here," said he feared that more bodies might be beneath the wreckage. He warned residents particularly against the possibility of food contamination.

Although the ammonia was by far the worst hazard, oil spills from at least one car evoked concern from local Fire Chief Don Henning. His 42 volunteers manning standby pump units were continually warned that "one spark could set the whole area afire."

Burlington officials said there was no explosion as such from the derailment, despite the fact debris was found a considerable distance from the scene. Phillips Petroleum Co. officials were called in as consultants declined comment on this aspect.

Attorneys For Pope Challenge Death Penalty

Chappell (AP) — Attorneys for Duane Earl Pope asked the Deuel County District Court Tuesday to dismiss murder charges against the once-convicted bank robber-killer on grounds the death penalty provision in the state law is unconstitutional.

A similar constitutional defect in federal bank robbery laws led the U.S. Supreme Court last June to set aside the death sentence pronounced on the 25-year-old Kansan at his 1965 trial in Federal District Court in Lincoln.

A life sentence was substituted for the death penalty in federal court last December, but Deuel County authorities have since moved to bring Pope to trial on murder charges in the state courts — making Pope subject once again to a death penalty.

Pope, a Roxbury, Kan., farm youth, was convicted of fatally shooting three persons and maiming a fourth while robbing the Farmers State Bank of nearby Big Springs of about $1,600, just five days after his 1965 graduation from Mc Pherson (Kan.) College. Both federal and state charges were filed, but authorities elected to prosecute initially on the federal charges.

Filing Tuesday's motions to dismiss the state charges, and supporting briefs, were Pope's court-appointed lawyers, former Nebraska Gov. Robert B. Crosby and University of Nebraska law professor Wallace M. Rudolph, both of Lincoln.

Essentially, they argued that the death penalty provision in the murder law, by stating that the death penalty shall be prescribed by a jury, violates Pope's right to trial by jury as guaranteed in both federal and state constitutions.

"It is clear," the briefs said, "that if the defendant chooses trial by the court he cannot be sentenced to death, whereas if he exercises his right to trial by jury the death penalty is explicitly authorized by the statute.

"The above situation, borrowing from the language of the U.S. Supreme Court, 'imposes an impermissible burden upon the exercise of a constitutional right.' "

Two state murder counts are lodged against Pope in each of the three slayings. One count charges premeditated killing, and the other charges murder in the commission of a felony.

Tuesday's motions asked dismissal of all six counts and a finding that the death penalty provision, if not the entire law, is unconstitutional.

The motions request that if the court finds the death penalty is unconstitutional but severable from the remainder of the statute, an order be entered holding such sentence unconstitutional. Such an order is necessary in advance of trial "in order that this defendant may have a fair and impartial jury from which persons with death penalty scruples will not have been excluded," the motions said.

The supporting briefs noted that under Nebraska law, a murder defendant can plead guilty and be sentenced by the judge without a jury recommendation. "But the fatal defect remains unmitigated," the brief said. "The Nebraska statute fails to provide the procedure when the plea is not guilty and a jury is waived."

Mrs. Hughes Accepts Post As New Director Of Health Planning Agency

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

Mrs. Calista Cooper Hughes of Humboldt has been named by Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann to head the State Comprehensive Health Planning Agency, The Star learned Tuesday.

Tiemann's office declined comment on whether the former state senator was being named to the $13,800-a-year post.

However, Mrs. Hughes confirmed by telephone she has accepted the offered appointment, and will be conferring with Gov. Tiemann on Wednesday regarding assumption of her new duties.

Gov. Tiemann transferred comprehensive health planning last fall from the Health Department to the governor's office despite protests from the State Health Board.

John R. Carson, director of the health planning agency, has confirmed reports he plans to leave the post about April 1.

Reports were that Carson submitted his resignation last October, but that the governor convinced him to remain until the transition was completed.

Sources said Carson's decision to leave the post, made last fall, did not involve its transfer to the governor's office or the announced resignation this week of Dr. Lynn W. Thompson, state health director.

MRS. HUGHES

Four Years Service

Carson has been with state government for the past four years, coming here from Iowa. Previous to the two years as comprehensive health planning director, he served as executive director of the State Advisory Commission on Aging.

Mrs. Hughes, 54, served a four-year term in the Legislature, where she was chairman of the Committee on Public Health and Welfare. She lost her bid for re-election last November.

Her husband, Morris N. Hughes, is a retired foreign service officer of the U.S. State Department. She has been active in education, public health and hospital affairs.

Senators Press Rogers For Missile Curb Talks

Washington (AP) — Making his first public congressional appearance as secretary of state, William P. Rogers ran into heavy pressure in the Senate Foreign Relations Committee Tuesday to start missile curb talks with the Soviet Union.

"Why is the United States reluctant to begin these conversations?" asked Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn.

"We're not reluctant," Rogers replied.

"When do you think they can begin, before or after we deploy the ABM antiballistic missile?" Gore persisted.

'I don't want to make any commitments for the administration on ABMs," Rogers said. "The matter is under review now."

Maybe 6 Months

"Can you give us any estimate of the timing?" Gore asked.

"I'd rather not," Rogers said. But he suggested that "it might be six months or less" — depending on the Soviet attitude as well.

The issue of whether to go ahead with deploying the proposed missile defense system is hot on Capitol Hill and Rogers' general approach was "the sooner the better" on any deal with Russia to dampen the costly arms spiral, even though he was not announcing anything specific.

The official topic before the senators was President Nixon's call for U.S. ratification of the treaty to bar the spread of nuclear weapons, the nonproliferation pact already signed by 87 nations and ratified by nine.

Reception Friendly

And Rogers' friendly reception in his debut before the group headed by Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., contrasted with the frosty atmosphere during the late phases of Dean Rusk's tenure when Lyndon B. Johnson's secretary of state was refusing to testify on Vietnam in open session.

Fulbright welcomed Rogers' appearance and in an interview said the Senate will probably okay the landmark treaty.

He scheduled Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird for what he indicated may be a final hearing on the treaty Thursday.

Morning's Routine Altered In A Hurry

By DAVE ZIMMERMAN

Crete — A thick fog of anhydrous ammonia spewing from a ruptured railroad tanker at Crete brought death, sickness and full-scale rescue and salvage operations to the little town of Crete Tuesday.

Before tragedy struck, Crete's 3,500 residents were going through their early-morning routines of preparing for the day.

A short time later, eight persons were dead, scores were suffering the effects of ammonia inhalation and burns and a few were treated for exposure to the freezing temperatures as they fled from their homes.

Temporary Housing

Temporary housing was provided at Doane College, the city fire station, and in private homes for the nearly 500 residents who were routed from their homes in the danger area which enveloped the west part of the city.

Typical of the evacuees were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Svarc who live about 75 feet from the site of the wreck.

"I heard a boom, and then everything got very foggy," said Svarc, who was sitting at the breakfast table with his wife when the accident happened.

Grabbed Bucket

The 72-year-old man said he grabbed a half bucket of cold water and "pulled" his wife down the steps into the cellar when he realized the fog was poisonous ammonia.

The two sat there fanning themselves and holding wet rags over their faces for about an hour before firemen, accompanied by their son, arrived to help them escape, he said.

Draft Lottery Proposal Seen Before War Ends

© New York Times Service

Washington — Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird said Tuesday the Nixon administration may propose a lottery system to select draftees even while the Vietnam war continues.

One of the first bills the administration plans to send Congress, Laird said, will be one "to do away with the inequities that presently exist in our Selective Service Act."

That, together with a thorough overhaul of the military pay system, he said, are vital first steps if the country is to move away from reliance on the draft to an all-volunteer military force.

Tied To Budget Review

A short-term study on ways to reduce reliance on the draft is tied to a budget review that is expected to be completed by mid-March, Laird said.

The review is under the direction of Deputy Defense Secretary David Packard.

The two Pentagon leaders also disclosed:

World News

—They expect to propose a deployment plan for the Sentinel missile defense better than that proposed by the Johnson administration. While they insisted no final decision has yet been made, they made clearer than previously that the present focus of their study is on what form of the Sentinel anti-ballistic missile defense to deploy, not whether to deploy a defense.

—Laird plans to leave for a battlefield inspection trip to Vietnam March 5 and return March 12.

—The administration has "reminded" the Soviet Union that it shares Big Four responsibility for maintaining free access to West Berlin. Laird discounted reports of "unusual" Soviet troop movements in the area.

Priority Is High

Laird made it clear that correcting draft inequities has a high priority in the new administration. The Selective Service Act "must be changed," he declared.

A lottery, or random selection system was actually proposed by the Johnson administration last year and rejected by Congress.

Packard noted that previous studies to improve military pay have concentrated on the problem of retaining men in service, rather than raising starting salaries to the point where they would be competitive with civilian pay and thus might attract young men to volunteer for service even without the fear of the draft acting as a motivating force.

Vice Adm. William Mack, of the Defense Department's manpower office, estimated that college graduates may soon make up 30% of draftees, compared to only 5% last year.

Sirhan Took Gun Practice, Says Witness

Los Angeles (AP) — Sirhan Bishara Sirhan was identified from the witness stand Tuesday as having engaged in rapid fire practice on a gun club range only hours before the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

"He came up to me and said I want the best box of shells you have and I want some that will not misfire," said Everett C. Buckner, rangemaster at the club.

Buckner said Sirhan signed the practice roster at the club that day. Superior Court Judge Herbert V. Walker asked: "You see the man who signed it?"

"Sirhan Sirhan, the fellow over there," Buckner replied, pointing at the defendant.

Earlier, the mystery girl in the polka dot dress at the scene of the senator's slaying said she didn't know Sirhan, had never smiled at or talked to him, and couldn't even recognize him for sure in court.

East Germans Plan Blasting On Day Nixon Visits Berlin

Berlin (AP) — A blasting job by East German military engineers on West Berlin's border threatens to complicate the already restricted land travel between this isolated city and West Germany during the next two weeks.

The period encompasses the visit of President Nixon to West Berlin Feb. 27 and the eve of the meeting of West Germany's National Assembly here March 5 to elect a successor to President Heinrich Luebke.

Police said the East German army plans slow-motion demolition, starting Wednesday, of the brick base of a Soviet war memorial.

The memorial is on a knoll overlooking the 110 miles of autobahn to Helmstedt, West Germany. A Soviet T34 tank long planted atop the base was removed last week.

The brick structure, about 20 feet long and 10 feet high, looks as if it could be disposed of in a single day, but the police said they were told the blasting would be stretched over Feb. 19, 21, 25, 27 and March 4.

West Berliners, however, considered that the aim was political. An authoritative German source commented: "You know what has been said, but you know what we all think."

East German guards shut down the processing of outbound traffic from West Berlin for two hours Tuesday and Western officers at all other East-West crossing points reported long delays.

Sharpened Communist controls included extended searches of some vehicles and their occupants at border garages.

Guards said heavy snow at the weekend slowed operations.

But truck drivers who got through said the highway was in no worse shape than those in West Germany.

The situation took yet another turn when a spokesman of the West German Liberal Students Association, known as LSD after its German lettering, called for a motor column to block the autobahn March 4.

China Angrily Cancels Resumption Of Talks

Warsaw (AP) — Angered by the defection of one of its diplomats to the United States, Red China Tuesday called off a resumption of U.S.-Chinese ambassadorial talks scheduled in Warsaw Thursday.

The talks were broken off by Red China 13 months ago. In Washington, Secretary of State William P. Rogers expressed his disappointment and regret.

Chen Tung, charge d'affaires at Red China's Embassy in Warsaw, told U.S. Ambassador Walter Stoessel Jr. by a hand-carried note of Peking's decision.

Plot Alleged

A Chinese Embassy spokesman said: "The U.S. government, in conspiring with the Dutch government, inspired the former Chinese diplomat Liao Ho-shu to betray his fatherland and defect to the United States.

"We regard this as a grave anti-Chinese incident."

Rogers denied that the United States had anything to do with the defection Jan. 24 of Liao, charge d'affaires of the mission at The Hague.

Rogers said the United States had been ready to discuss peaceful coexistence with Red China and an exchange of reporters, scholars, scientists and scientific information.

The Chinese Embassy's statement was similar to that of a foreign ministry spokesman in Peking, who said Red China had protested the Liao incident Feb. 6 but Washington had "made shameless denials."

It had been thought that in suggesting the resumption of the meetings in February, Peking wanted to sound out President Nixon's administration after the takeover from President Lyndon B. Johnson. But the broadcast denounced the Nixon administration in the strongest terms.

Allies Report Increase In Bombing, Offensive Sweeps

Saigon (AP) — The allied command Wednesday reported increased offensive sweeps and new high-altitude bombing raids following the one-day cease-fire for the lunar new year.

Sharp ground clashes in the far north and the Mekong Delta cost the enemy at least 80 dead Tuesday, the command said, in addition to many still-uncounted casualties in smaller skirmishes.

Tuesday night and Wednesday morning in four heavy raids, Strategic Air Command B52s dropped more than two million pounds of bombs along the Cambodian border northwest of Saigon.

The raids were strung along an arc intersecting jungle infiltration routes from enemy sanctuaries in Cambodia. There was no indication of major enemy movements in the always sensitive area.

There was no discernible pattern in the rising ground fighting which remained far below the levels of a year ago.

Both the allied command and the Communist headquarters continued to make accusations of truce violations over the lunar new year. The allied 24-hour truce ended Monday afternoon, while the Communist-declared truce runs until Saturday morning.

A broadcast by the National Liberation Front accused the U.S. bombers of "sabotaging the traditional lunar new year of the Vietnamese people" by causing many deaths and much damage on the first day of the new year.

The U.S. Command in turn said that during the 24-hour period when the allied and Communist truce periods overlapped, 205 enemy-initiated incidents were counted and eight Americans were killed and 112 wounded.

Ammonia Brings Disaster To Crete

'Just About Knocked Me Backwards'

Crete, Neb. (AP) — "I opened the front door and I couldn't see anything. The gas just about knocked me backwards."

Those were the words of Mrs. Mamie Littler, 60, of Crete, one of hundreds of Crete residents forced to evacuate their homes early Tuesday when ammonia fumes, loosed by a train derailment and explosion, spread over part of the city.

Rescue workers ran from door to door after the explosion, warning residents to flee. Many, like Mrs. Littler, had already noticed the smell.

Mrs. Littler was helped from the area by national guardsmen. But she didn't leave empty handed.

She brought her two chihuahua dogs, Red and Poddy, along.

"I would have rather stayed and died than left them," she said.

Les Parks, a volunteer fireman, said he was on a rescue unit with a pickup truck with four other men.

'State Of Shock'

He said the victims "were in a state of shock. They were not saying too much, just Help us. Help us. "Most of them were bleeding from the mouth and nose. For some of them we didn't have enough masks to go around by far.

"Guys were walking ahead of the truck. We just were kind of feeling our way as we drove down the street. We tried to go in each house to check to see if the people got out.

'Like Fog'

"It was just like fog, except thicker," said John Hoesche, one of those whose homes was attacked by the heavy, poisonous fumes.

Although many persons tried to walk out of the area with wet towels wrapped around their faces, most gave it up, and waited for evacuation by rescue workers.

Many residents outside the area hit by the fumes volunteered their services and automobiles to shuttle persons out of the area.

Visibility Zero

Cars became almost impossible to use near the derailment because visibility dropped to zero.

"We left the house with towels wrapped around our faces," Mrs. Raymond Foreman said. "But we had to give it up after we got in the car. We couldn't see."

Her family returned to their home and blockaded themselves in "a newer section of the house, with better insulation." But the ammonia began to seep in there too.

"Finally some rescue workers came by and got us," Mrs. Foreman said, "and we got out."

Temperature Inversion Held Gas In Its Place

A temperature inversion Tuesday prevented the dissipation of the fog of anhydrous ammonia fumes resulting from the explosion near Crete, according to the U.S. Weather Bureau at Lincoln.

Higher temperatures in the upper atmosphere over lower temperatures near the ground held the poisonous fumes in the area. Clouds kept the surface temperature lower and slowed the dispersion.

Surface winds were light Tuesday and so there was no horizontal circulation of the fumes, according to the weather bureau official.

Anhydrous Ammonia Has Many Bad Effects

Massive burns, freezing, blindness, asphyxiation and acute skin irritation are some of the possible affects of contact with anhydrous ammonia or inhalation of the poisonous gas, State Health Director Lynn Thompson said Tuesday.

Victims of the accident at Crete could suffer any of a variety of bad effects from the gas, he said.

If the skin is in direct contact with the strong alkali it will either cause severe burns or freeze the skin. Ammonia can also destroy the cornea of the eye and cause permanent blindness, he said.

Fumes of the gas can cause irritation to air passages and make it difficult for the body to circulate oxygen. Many times the mucous membranes are damaged and the victim is subject to pneumonia.

Exposure to anhydrous ammonia is like "putting a body into a lime pit," Dr. Thompson said. The chemical eats up the tissues.

Animals, soil and water can possibly be affected by the gas. Dispersion of the fumes over a wider area can spread the ill effects, he said.

Town Water Probably Safe

The Crete water system will probably not be affected by the explosion circulating anhydrous ammonia over the area Tuesday, according to T. A. Filipi, of the environmental health division of the State Health Department.

The deep wells of the Crete system are located on high ground away from the site of the explosion, so officials concluded there was not any danger of the water being contaminated.

However, ranchers and farmers in the area were advised to check stock tanks for pollution and people were warned to stay away from surface water.

"Any food in glass or tin containers will be all right, but food that was in the open, such as lettuce or fruit, should be thrown away," Filipi said.

The soil should be improved by the ammonia, since it is the chemical commonly used in fertilizers, Filipi said.

Nursing Home Evacuated

evacuation operations was the transporting of 58 residents from a nursing home to the campus center at Doane College.

Although the home is located in Southeast Crete, officials said the residents were transported because the home was located in a lower part of the city and it was feared that the heavy gas would settle there.

College students carried out a major part of the move and remained with the oldsters in a lounge adjacent to the college cafeteria, which provided free meals to the oldsters and volunteer workers.

The residents were moved back to the home later in the afternoon.

Guard Prevents Looting

During the night, Nebraska National Guard Troops blocked off the area to prevent looting and firemen from Crete and surrounding towns also stood watch and accompanied those who needed to return home briefly for necessities.

The Red Cross supplied about 125 cots to operation headquarters at the Crete Fire Station and planned to bring in a mobile food unit.

TEMPORARY HOME . . . cots go up at fire station for evacuees.

Summary Of Conditions

High pressure covers the central part of the country with low pressure off the East Coast and another area of low pressure in California. All systems are expected to move slowly eastward. As the ridge in the area continues to move eastward, there will be a change from west to east to a more southerly flow of winds along with a slow warming trend.

Cloudiness will continue to be mostly variable until about Thursday afternoon when the California low will have moved southeastward to extreme southern Texas and the circulation off the Gulf will begin to transport additional moisture into Nebraska and Iowa.

EVENTS

IN PERSPECTIVE

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

A significant number of vital issues have been placed on the front burner of public affairs by the City Council. Their disposition will require intelligent leadership and an enlightened electorate.

Apparently assured of a place on the May ballot is a proposition to increase the salaries of City Council members from $20 a meeting to $3,600 a year. This more than triples the financial reward for service on the council but is a step that needs to be taken.

The $3,600 a year still is not sufficient to attract an individual seeking the position as a full-time job but would give reasonable compensation to those who are elected. At the present figure, a financial sacrifice is demanded that is out of line and unfair.

Skeptics will argue to the contrary that no one has to serve on the City Council and that those who do have volunteered knowing what the rewards and sacrifices are. And they will argue that the prominence of serving accrues to the benefit of those elected to public office.

This is all true but is our concern with the individual or for the city? The salary change is proposed to improve city government by inviting qualified candidates to seek office and only secondarily for the individual himself.

Still pending is the matter of the mayor's salary, now set at $16,325 a year. There isn't a great deal of argument with that salary itself, but rather, with its effect upon other areas of city government.

The city charter provides that no city official shall make a higher salary than that paid to the mayor. It is a good provision insofar as governmental theory is concerned but it plays havoc with the reality of some situations.

There are areas of city government where technical, professional help is needed that cannot be found for $16,325. This is particularly true in the utilities area. The dilemma is whether to change the charter or simply increase the mayor's salary to allow a pay level that is needed elsewhere.

Our tendency is to avoid much of any increase in the mayor's salary but it is equally difficult to advocate governmental salaries higher than the mayor's. The subject needs careful thought and attention in the months ahead.

Also boiling away at this time are proposals for a separate operational board for city utilities and possibly for Lincoln General Hospital.

Both proposals would take those respective operations out from under the direct control of the City Council, except in the matter of budgets. Actually, Lincoln General Hospital operates that way for all practical purposes now.

★

The hospital would face one problem, perhaps, in that it is still receiving some general fund support from the city. Additionally, it has outstanding revenue bonds in the amount of $4.2 million for which the city has pledged its faith and resources.

If the hospital were more completely removed from municipal jurisdiction, it would seem that these financial arrangements would have to be eliminated.

The same thing does not apply to utilities, where the budget is composed of self-sustaining funds, not general tax funds. But here we are talking about a utility with a value of more than $30 million, owned by the people of Lincoln.

An independent entity may be the best thing for the people but the management of the electric system should not be treated lightly.

'Some Are More Equal Than Others'

Car Check Necessary

The people must have spoken, judging from the Legislature's action in suspending the mandatory motor vehicle inspection program.

Observers say that few issues recently have stirred up the senators' constituents as much as the safety standards bill, probably exceeding the complaints raised over the driver's license re-examination law.

Simply, the rules, as now written, are too strict and the inspection would be too costly to the average motorist.

Now Legislative Council aide George Gerdes and Sen. C. L. Holmquist, as a member of the public works committee, are in Washington conferring with officials to see what impact the Legislature's action will have on the flow of federal highway aid dollars, which the government has promised to diminish if the states don't enact vehicle inspection programs. If it appears that the government is just fooling around with its announced intention to penalize the states, the Legislature will probably forget to set an effective date for vehicle inspections.

But it seems that the government isn't fooling and the Legislature will have to approve vehicle inspection standards consistent with the guidelines set by the Department of Transportation.

We might as well face it; some sort of vehicle inspection standards will have to be enforced because the federal government wills it. It's hoped that the rewritten rules won't prove to be as costly to the average motorist as those now suspended. And it shouldn't be too hard for people to understand that their representatives have an obligation to approve measures that save lives and prevent injuries.

What Is State's Difficulty?

One need not engage in personalities to ask the cause of problems evident in the administrative affairs of state government. Within the past week, controversy has developed over operations of the State Motor Vehicles Department, the head of the State Health Department has resigned and the head of the State Welfare Department, at last report, was considering resigning.

This may or may not speak ill of one or more individuals but it does seem that all is not well in state administration. Gov. Norbert Tiemann is the chief administrator of state government, of course, and the problems that exist are his responsibility.

The governor has not been silent. He favors, for one thing, a salary bill now in the Legislature that would make it possible to attract and hold some of the administrators who are so essential to a smoothly functioning government.

It is quite possible that this is at least one of the major problems we have. Nebraska has to recognize that if it intends to take part in modern society, it is going to have to pay the price. Like it or not, qualified professional help these days is not hired for the wages we have been willing to pay in the past.

Beyond that lie such matters as the opportunity for achievement found within a department, as reflected in its total budget appropriations, and leadership from the office of the governor. It would appear that something might well be lacking in both of these categories, too.

Is Our Pessimism Actually Justified?

NEW YORK — If it is true that the most powerful and naturally optimistic people in the world are beginning to wonder whether events are out of control, the outlook for the future is gloomy indeed. But is this pessimism really justified?

It is true that a series of immense and tragic events over the last two generations have shattered the self-complacency of an earlier age. It is also true that the grandiose schemes for abolishing war and stamping out poverty and integrating the races have led to disillusion and reappraisal, but are these things bad?

There is great turmoil in the nation today mainly because it is really grappling with the most fundamental questions of human life. It is struggling, probably more seriously than ever before and probably more actively than any other nation on earth, with the contradictions of great wealth and poverty, with the selfishness of powerful factions and nations, and with the perplexities and hypocrisies of human relations in the church, the university, and the market place.

Also, we are finally coming to realize that wishes are not policies and that nations which have policies they are not prepared to pay for inevitably loiter down into deep trouble.

Thus, it can at least be argued that America is not rushing forward along a disastrous course, but is actually in the process of turning back toward safer ground. There is a whiff of anarchy on some university campuses, but in general there has actually been less violence in the universities this school year than last.

The rich may be getting richer in America but the poor are certainly not getting poorer. In fact, the paradox of this time is that the uprising of the poor has coincided with the period of their greatest progress and the same can be said for the activities and the progress of the American Negroes.

On the international scene, despite Vietnam and Czechoslovakia and the Middle East, the trend is not toward escalation and disarray but toward moderation and negotiation. The days of our moral indifference about foreign relations, and race relations, and university relations, while quieter, were not better but worse than the present, for they led to the conflicts we are now trying to compose.

Maybe, then, the more solemn and cautious and even melancholy mood of the moment is not all bad. It could even be a sign of maturity. Lochinvar and the sheriff are gone, and Washington has been taken over by less dramatic technicians but expectations and realities, and ends and means may be coming into better alignment.

Nixon's European Trip Brings Some Doubts; Disappointments May Follow Raised Hopes

WASHINGTON — All new presidents need to establish their own style in the White House, to put their personal stamp on an office that various predecessors have shaped to other ideas and circumstances.

Presidents seldom are entirely free to do this, of course. It was vital for Lyndon Johnson, in November, 1963, to address and reassure Congress and the nation. But it would make little sense for Richard Nixon to give a State of the Union address now, when his legislative program is not fully developed, his first budget is essentially Johnson's last and his major foreign problem — Vietnam — is in protracted negotiation.

If a big setpiece speech is temporarily of small use to Nixon, however, there are other means by which he can make an early impact on his office and on the American imagination. One way in which he obviously has sought to do so is by carefully cultivating the idea that he is organizing the White House to deal with foreign and domestic problems in an orderly, efficient way.

Thus, there now is not only a reconstituted National Security Council on something near the Eisenhower model, in sharp contrast to the highly ad hoc "excom" group favored by President Kennedy and the tightly concentrated "Tuesday lunch" system of President Johnson; there also is a new urban council for similarly methodical consideration of domestic affairs.

This not only provides the needed new look for the Nixon White House; it also awakens welcome echoes of the orderly (if sometimes ponderous) Eisenhower administration, and thus of the less turbulent years over which the general and his associates presided. And since Nixon's opportunities for action are still circumscribed by the budget and the negotiations he inherited, all that organizing provides the sense of motion that might otherwise be lacking.

This is not to suggest that the new President's display of organizational sufficiency is in any way spurious or merely "imagery"; in fact, the purposes of public impact served so far have been useful in getting Nixon off to a good start.

Moreover, careful study and organization obviously are congenial to Nixon, a renowned "grind" in his student days and a man still accustomed to doing his homework, as well as to looking before he leaps. In foreign affairs, at least, formal organization is equally congenial to the methods and talents of Henry Kissinger, Nixon's White House assistant in this field.

In fact, however, no matter how much "machinery" is clanking away in the White House basement, this administration, like any other, surely will have officials of particular access to and influence on the President; and in the long-run he is likely to make the decisions only he can make quite as much in consort with these persons, and out of his own ideas and circumstances, as because of what his formal councils may conclude.

Nixon's overseas expedition next week, for instance, appears to be a little out of his administration's newly established character. It obviously is a good thing to display some renewed sympathy for Europe after the years of American concentration on Vietnam. Nixon may also be able to drum up a bit more interest in NATO and ease the pains of those aggrieved by the nonproliferation treaty. He is not unaware that General de Gaulle seems anxious to display friendly feelings toward a new president not associated with old antagonisms.

But in London, Prime Minister Wilson is hungry for all sorts of political and economic help. De Gaulle may want some backing for the franc and he certainly wants Nixon's collaboration in his Middle East peacemaking efforts; yet he shows no signs of modifying his NATO or Common Market stands. Bonn will be seeking a variety of difficult assurances. There will be demands on Nixon from every direction, many of them directly conflicting, and by no means all of which he can or should satisfy.

Is his trip, coming so early in his tenure and having such obvious priority in his mind, therefore likely to raise European expectations to unrealistic levels so that serious disappointments are apt to follow? That is the kind of question that causes some here to think that Nixon's trip to Europe is less a consequence of the orderly machinery he has established than of the more personal notions that, sooner or later, move all presidents.

West O Traffic Light

Lincoln, Neb.

Our people pretty much agree with your February 13 editorial about the West O traffic light, but unfortunately you did not have all the facts.

The City must have a priority system and with this no one should disagree. In June, 1967, some of our people met with the mayor and traffic engineer and it was agreed that the city would put a blinker light at this intersection as a temporary measure and that money for the traffic light would be provided in the 1967-68 budget. At that time our people understood Mr. Holsinger to say that this signal was No. 9 on his priority list.

It was later learned that this money was not put in the 1967-68 budget but that instead the city engineer had more or less junked the priority system for that year and had decided to put the new, expensive ($10,000 or $15,000 each) resignalization in the downtown area to be accomplished at the same time the City Power Company was reinstalling some wiring in various parts of the downtown area.

In the 1968-69 budget, there was again a major deviation from the priority system because the city engineer decided that the one-way street system in the downtown area required a maze of signals at various downtown intersections.

During the various contacts with City Hall during these months, there has never been any question raised about this intersection's having been No. 9 on the priority list. At the council meeting a couple of weeks ago, the city engineer told our group that we had misunderstood and that this was Priority No. 39.

According to the city report, it stated that of the accomplishments during 1967-68, one of them was "completion of 16 traffic signal systems and 19 others under contract or in the planning stage."

If we do have a priority system and even if our intersection had been No. 39 and not No. 9, 34 of the 39 should have been taken care of, according to this recent statement. This would have left our intersection No. 4 for the 1968-69 budget. This would have meant that our signal would have been installed easily during this past year. If the city is to make the major deviations outlined above from the priority system, then how can we ever have a traffic light in our area?

The mere fact that there were more accidents in one intersection than another is not the only factor to consider. The intersection in question is an unusual one.

The public school bus, plus the parochial school buses that cross at this intersection daily amount to 10. The public school bus is a 66-passenger job and you should try to drive that across the intersection on an icy morning. Couple this fact with the fact that there are numerous gas transports and heavily laden trucks pouring down the highway off the Interstate and you can imagine the type of tragedy that will occur sooner or later. It is not a question of "if" — it is only a question of "when."

In almost any other part of town, if you are driving to work or back and you know that a particular non-signaled intersection will be very busy and hard to cross, you can drive one or two or a few blocks one direction or the other and come upon a traffic signal so that you can cross. In the West O area, you could drive forever and never find a traffic signal to allow you to cross.

The traffic at this intersection on O Street has increased from 8,800 cars to 15,000 during a period of three years. The shopping center at this area furnishes the only postal service, banking service, dry-cleaning service, etc. in the west side area to serve the 12,000 people who live between the viaduct and the county line and for the more than 4,000 people who work west of the viaduct.

A traffic count of the number of cars on Capitol Beach Boulevard is completely invalid. If you live in that area and are coming to work at eight o'clock, you would not use that intersection under the present arrangement because you know there will be from three to 10 cars backed up, trying to cross, and that you will wait there five or 10 minutes; so you go down the street to some other intersection where there aren't so many cars waiting. A traffic light at this intersection would channel all the traffic from that area across O Street at that point.

Patches Wears Well

Lincoln, Neb.

What a heart-warming article and picture (Star, Feb. 11) concerning "Patches," the cat that traveled from Omaha to Lincoln in an attempt to find her home and owners.

It is amazing that Patches could survive the severe weather of the past few months without shelter, doubtful sources of food, and the hazards of crossing the streets with heavy traffic as she necessarily had to do in order to reach her destination.

The expression on Patches' face as she was reunited with her owner was one of complete happiness and contentment.

We who are cat devotees were deeply moved by this demonstration of feline devotion and the determination of Patches.

The Servants

Lincoln, Neb.

I think the City Council's action in having City Attorney Nelson draw up a bill to present to the Nebraska State Legislature allowing the city to enact an urban renewal program without a vote of the people of Lincoln was unethical.

This was one of the most diabolic, underhanded tricks ever conceived by any city council, especially so in view of the fact that urban renewal was defeated by a vote of the people.

Senator Warner put his name on this bill, which is LB670. I am sure the people of Lincoln will be at the State Capitol when this bill comes up for hearing.

I am one of those naive people who always thought public officials were servants of the people. Apparently, in the case of our City Council, I was wrong.

Tax Burden, Etc.

Scotia, Neb.

I agree 100% with Anita Clark's comments in the February 14 Star. It seems that quite a few people of draft age suddenly have a "conscience" when they are called to protect their country, in this case against communism.

However, I sympathize with anyone who is drafted into the armed forces. We boast of being civilized and scientific, but the only solution to war seems to be to kill each other.

As to the Clayton Shaw trial, it seems that the star witness hedged in his testimony for so much per hedge. I doubt if money will ever let the truth be known. Robert Kennedy's assassin's lawyer wants a mistrial declared to insure his client of "justice" — as if he were justified in killing RFK.

Although anti-communist, I wonder how much better our laws are than those of the communists. With the numerous loopholes, the rich evade taxes, the poor can't pay — so the burden falls on the middle class.

However, I still prefer what we have to communism.

Marijuana Bill

Wheeling, W.V.

I am a native Nebraskan, a registered voter there and a graduate of the University of Nebraska. I am currently a VISTA volunteer (Volunteer in Service to America) in West Virginia. I want to come back to Nebraska some day and I want it to be a good, just state in which to live.

I have been following with deep concern press reports of the progress of LB8 (the marijuana bill). Let it be clear that I do not live in great fear of marijuana as many Nebraskans do. But I have an open mind about the demerits and merits of marijuana. My overwhelming concern, however, is with the role Nebraskans, through their Legislature, think they can take in legislating what they perceive to be morality.

My concern is with the power this Legislature thinks it has to prescribe penalties which lap over into public institutions which have no cause—effect one to one relation with the crime. Until you can tell me that the smoking of pot and the successful completion of college are negatively related or related, at all, then I fail to see what is going to stop the Legislature from preventing other law violators from getting their right to an education.

My concern is with Sen. Carpenter. I have had a bellyfull of his hypocrisy. What makes an 18-year-old more capable of making a decision about drinking alcohol than making one about smoking marijuana or voting for the politician who will represent him in making the foregoing decisions? Carpenter obviously has a lot more to gain from selling liquor to 19-year-olds than he does from giving them the vote.

I urge Nebraskans to wake up. Singling out students for punishments additional to that of other violators of the same law is cruel and unusual punishment and clearly unconstitutional. But why let the Legislature think it can pull off this breach of "law and order"?

Bill To Require ETV Unit Elections Advances

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

The Legislature's Education Committee Tuesday stamped its approval on a bill which would require election of members to the Nebraska Educational Television Commission.

Clearing the committee on a 5-0 vote was LB7, which would reduce commission membership from 13 to nine, and provide for election of three members from each of Nebraska's three congressional districts.

Ten commission members, including six educational representatives and four lay members, are now appointed by the governor. Other members are the chancellor of the University of Nebraska, state college coordinator and state education commissioner.

'Time Has Come'

Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, sponsor of LB7, said the time has come to take supervision of the statewide ETV network away from educators, and give it to the general public through elected representatives.

Public representatives would be "better able to select, supervise and direct" ETV operations, Carpenter said.

"Many of the programs now telecast are distasteful in the minds of some people," he noted.

Probe Slated

(A legislative subcommittee, headed by Sen. Henry Pedersen Jr. of Omaha, will meet with commission members and staff Wednesday to probe programming policy.)

Opposing LB7 were spokesmen for the Nebraska Council for ETV and the Metropolitan Omaha Educational Broadcasting Assn.

The commission needs educators as members in order to perform its assigned task of being responsive to educational needs, they said.

'Excellent Job'

"This commission has done an excellent job," Associate School Superintendent R. L. Fredstrom of Lincoln told the committee.

In other action, the lawmakers turned thumbs down on a proposal that the Legislature authorize the commission to expend funds for the promotion of ETV programs.

Instead, LB63 was amended simply to direct the commission to provide news media with program schedules as approved by the commission members. The bill was then sent to the floor on a 6-0 vote.

Broadcasters Opposed

Spokesmen for the Nebraska Broadcasters Association, and May Broadcasting Company (KMTV) in Omaha opposed the bill.

Tax money should not be used to help ETV compete with commercial telecasters, Arden Swisher, vice president of May Broadcasting, said.

The ETV network is already beginning to "slide into the mass communications picture," Swisher said, through entertainment offerings in the evening.

"We fear the next step will be news and sports."

Go For Naught

Jack McBride, general manager for the commission, said ETV network programs "go for naught unless the (potential) audience knows they exist."

Killed, on a 7-0 count, was LB64, which would have required the University of Nebraska to transfer to the commission its license to operate KUON-TV.

The proposal was opposed by McBride and NU Regent Edward Schwartzkopf of Lincoln.

Bill To Lessen Marijuana Use Penalty Advances

The Legislature's Public Health and Welfare Committee Tuesday advanced to the floor a bill lightening the penalty for first offense use of marijuana.

Under the amended version of Sen. Terry Carpenter's LB2, first offense users of small doses of marijuana would be subject to a jail sentence of 30 days to six months or to a fine of $100 to $500.

Possessors and sellers caught with 25 marijuana cigarettes or a half pound of marijuana could be imprisoned for not less than a year nor more than five.

Possession of marijuana is now punishable by one to five years imprisonment presently, even on the first offense.

Landowners or lessees would not be subject to penalty for having unharvested marijuana in its natural state on their land.

Columbus' Dike Needs Said Urgent

City's Officials In Washington

Washington (AP) — Mayor Barney Micek of Columbus, Neb., told Nebraska congressmen Tuesday a flood control project on the Loup River is urgently needed to protect his city.

Micek and other members of a delegation from Platte County spoke briefly at the weekly Nebraska congressional delegation breakfast.

The visitors also will meet with Army Engineers in an effort to speed start of the project's construction.

The proposed dike would start about 1½ miles northwest of the city and extend downstream past the city.

Micek said estimated cost of the project is $1.7 million, of which Columbus and Platte County would pay $700,000.

He said that the local share of the cost has increased by $400,000 in the years since the project was first proposed. Engineers have now completed plans for the project.

Micek and his group met after the breakfast with Republican Sens. Roman Hruska and Carl Curtis and Reps. Dave Martin and Robert V. Denney to discuss the project further.

'Need More Funds'

Micek told reporters he doesn't think the city and county are in position to contribute $700,000 and he hopes that some arrangement can be made for the federal government to pay a larger share.

The engineers can provide up to $1 million from their general fund for a project without congressional action, but if a larger federal contribution is necessary it must have separate congressional authorization and appropriation.

Micek said his group "may have to discuss whether we should take another route" toward obtaining a larger federal contribution.

Beatrice Latest To Seek Game Commission Unit

Beatrice (AP) — Beatrice has joined the list of cities which want to be the new home of the State Game Commission headquarters.

The Beatrice City Council adopted a resolution urging the governor and Executive Director Mel Steen of the State Game Commission to recommend to the state legislature that the headquarters be moved to Beatrice.

The resolution said the state already owns land close to the town of Beatrice.

Towns already seeking the headquarters include Schuyler, Ord, Grand Island, Albion and North Platte.

Urban Renewal Group Formed At Grand Island

Grand Island (UPI) — The Grand Island urban renewal authority was formally organized here.

It is the first such organization in the state of Nebraska.

The five-member authority is headed by Lloyd Matlock. It will oversee urban renewal projects in the city of Grand Island and will work with neighborhood groups in obtaining federal funds for needed projects.

Uniform Tax On Cars Proposed

New bills presented to the Legislature Tuesday would provide for uniform taxation of motor vehicles, increase the usury rate and permit the electorate, by initiative petition, to force a vote on a constitutional convention.

Sen. Rick Budd of Nebraska City and two co-signers introduced LB1222, proposing standardized taxation of motor vehicles according to a tax table written into law.

The tax on new cars would range from $65 to $135, according to size.

Motor vehicle taxes now vary from county to county in relation to the difference in property tax mill levies.

Same Amount

Under Budd's proposal, local subdivisions would receive the same amount of revenue which they get this year. The remainder would go to the state.

LB1231, sponsored by Sen. William Swanson of Lincoln, would boost the usury rate from 9% to 10%.

Swanson also proposed LB1230, containing a constitutional amendment which would permit voters to use the initiative process to gain a popular vote on the question of whether to summon a constitutional convention.

The issue may be placed on the ballot now only by a vote of the Legislature.

Recent sessions of the Legislature have refused to permit such a vote. Nebraska's last constitutional convention was held in 1919-20.

Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff presented LB1224, which would authorize the issuance of bingo licenses to senior citizens recreation programs operated by cities or villages.

Carpenter also signed LB1223, which would liberalize current restrictions on the practice of osteopathy in Nebraska.

Sen. Jules Burbach of Crofton and five co-sponsors introduced LB1233, which extends the deadline for filing personal property schedules when delayed by severe weather conditions.

LB1233 was placed on general file without a public hearing.

Sens. Loran Schmit of David City and Willard Waldo of DeWitt sponsored LB1234, authorizing the State Railway Commission to adopt safety rules and regulations for pipeline carriers.

City Employes Salary Bill Passed

By Associated Press

A bill authorizing mayors and city councils of first class cities to fix the salaries of the city's officers and employes was one of 15 measures passed on final reading in the Legislature Tuesday.

Sponsored by Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, LB50 eliminates salary ceilings previously set out in the law, and prescribes that the rate of compensation be fixed by ordinance.

The bill was approved on a 44-3 vote, and because it carries the emergency clause, it will become law the moment Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann signs it.

The bills passed Tuesday, with introducers and approving votes (E-emergency clause):

LB56 (Carpenter) — Prescribing what the published notice for municipal improvement shall contain. 42-2.

LB73 (Pedersen)—Reducing from 90% to 85% the portion of wages of the head of a family which shall be exempt from garnishee. 40-5.

LB253 (Swanson, Marvel, Elrod, Simpson, Waldron, Luedtke, Wenzlaff, Matzke, Burbach, Bloom, Proud, Mahoney, Hasebroock, Warner, Moylan, Robinson, Holmquist, Carpenter) — Renaming soldiers' Relief Commission as County Veterans Service Committee and variously revising related law. 46-0.

LB364 (Judiciary Committee) — Clarifying a 1967 law which transferred a tract of land in Hall County to the county. (E) 46-1.

LB50 (Carpenter) — Removing salary ceilings from law and providing that salaries of officers and employes in first class cities shall be set by the mayor and council. (E) 44-3.

LB133 (Judiciary) — Harmonizing provisions of law related to public welfare. 47-4.

LB138 (Judiciary) — Deleting obsolete matter and making other refinements in law related to revenue and taxation. 46-0.

LB165 (Luedtke) — Authorizing presiding judge of Nebraska Workmen's Compensation Court to select one of the other judges to act as presiding judge in absence of presiding judge. 47-0.

LB166 (Luedtke) — Prohibiting the practice of law by judges of the Nebraska Workmen's Compensation Court. 48-0.

LB199 (Johnson, Holmquist, Swanson) — Authorizing building and loan associations to purchase, hold and sell stock in service corporations. 48-0.

LB241 (Budd, Orme) — Enlarging the purpose of the Nebraska School for the Visually Handicapped at Nebraska City to include service as a state resource center and locale for in-service training.

LB317 (Proud)—Increasing from $3 to $5 the fee charged by county judges for issuing marriage license and recording the certificate. 44-2.

LB15 is now scheduled for second stage debate and amendment on the floor Wednesday.

Hearing Is Slated On Open Housing

Public hearing on the proposed statewide open housing bill was scheduled Tuesday for March 27.

The bill, LB718, will be heard by the Miscellaneous Subjects Committee in the West Senate Chamber at the Statehouse.

Prisoner Flees From Contempt

Recife, Brazil (AP) —A gunman who sawed his way out of jail in a small town near here left notes behind for the judge, jailer and guards saying he hoped they would excuse him for his actions.

But, he wrote, he could "no longer stand the anger and contempt of the townspeople towards me."

Fuquas Honored

Jury Duty Age Bill Is Returned For Amendment

Legislation which would reduce the minimum age for jury duty from 25 to 21 was returned to the Unicameral Tuesday by Gov. Norbert Tiemann for amendment.

Sen. Sam Klaver of Omaha said the governor's office has informed him that the emergency clause should be stricken from the bill so it would not become law until 90 days after the Legislature has adjourned.

Otherwise, Klaver said, an attorney general's opinion has indicated that the bill could disrupt some cases now on trial.

The bill, LB169, which passed last week on a 39-0 vote, will be resubmitted to final reading without the emergency clause. That clause permits a bill to become law immediately upon signature of the governor.

PROTECT YOUR FAMILY'S HEALTH

FLUORIDE ION- A DEADLY DESTROYER

For many years research scientists have proved that the fluoride ion is a powerful deadly cumulative enzyme poison or inhibitor in all animals and plant life.

This means that the fluoride ion is a powerful destroyer of living processes in every tissue including teeth, even in dilutions of one to 60 million. It acts slowly and silently over the years of time and it affects everyone of all ages, some seriously and some very. little.

In this action, the powerful fluoride ion forms an insoluble compound with essential elements, especially magnesium, which are the vital elements in the chemical actions in enzymes, thus limiting, crippling or destroying the living processes in these vital enzymes and cells.

It is impossible to have this powerful enzyme poison taken into the body daily without it being a cause or a causative factor in almost every disease, by weakening or destroying the vital chemicals reaction in every vital enzyme and cell. The more vital the organ, the more serious the damage.

By this action the fluoride ion is the cause or a causative factor in the most serious diseases such as mental and physical defects in babies — ulcer, cancer, heart, kidney, liver, mental and nervous diseases in adults.

The most serious effect is on brain and nerve tissue, as on the cells in the embryo which develop into the brain and nervous system. There is much evidence that the fluoride ion is a cause or a causative factor in mongolism and mental retardation in the new born, as well as mental and nervous diseases in adults.

The damage from the fluoride ion is one of our most common and serious health problems. Everyone is getting too much now. (Tea and coffee 15 to 25 PPM, increasing amounts in food from commercial fertilizers and insecticides, fluorides in air pollution from industrial combustion and automobile exhaust and increasing amounts used in drugs and tooth paste).

The fluoride ion detroys the living, nourishing processes in teeth.

In the enamel, the hydroxyapatite is the living, nourishing structure. When the fluoride ion comes in, it replaces the hydroxyl, forming the fluoroapatite. The fluoroapatite, instead of being a living, nourshing substance, is a non-living, inert, dead substance. By this action, the fluoride ion destroys the living processes in the enamel, slowly and gradually over years of time. In addition to this, the fluoride ion by forming insoluble calcium fluoride, causes calcific plugs in the pulp of the tooth gradually destroying the circulation. (There is only one thing that will make strong healthy LIVING teeth and that is proper food grown with natural fertilizer and without poisonous insecticides, and much of it eaten raw.) (Cooking destroys many vital elements.)

Promoters of fluoridation have never produced any scientific proof that the fluoride ion is not harmful.

For many years medical and dental societies have endorsed fluoridation but have never produced any proof that the fluoride ion is not harmful. They continue to repeat the line put out by bureaucrats in Washington that fluoridation is safe and you have to take their word for it.

Fluoridation of the public water supply is a destroyer of constitutional and civil rights. When the "control establishment" can force people to drink fluoridated water, they have destroyed all of your constitutional and civil rights.

Fluoridation has been a fraud and a crime of the worst kind from the beginning. Proof of this is now forced out into the open. In an injunction suit in Illinois against compulsory fluoridation, attorneys for the Illinois medical and dental societies were subpeonaed to bring into court proof of statements made by spokesmen of the medical and dental societies that they had done extensive scientific research and found fluoridation not harmful. When these attorneys were asked to produce this evidence in court they admitted THEY HAD NONE. Spokesmen for the medical and dental societies had been powerful in influencing the legislature to pass compulsory fluoridation on statements that they had done extensive scientific research and found fluoridation harmless, when in fact, they were simply using the usual propaganda put out by the "traveling salesmen" of fluoridation from Washington.

This same deception and fraud has been going on in every state with great vigor by those "control" enthusiasts from Washington.

Promotion of fluoridation began at a meeting of the State Dental Directors in Washington in 1951. Even against all of the evidence of the harmful effect of fluorides, leaders of this meeting ordered the dental directors to promote fluoridation. Since that time there has been a high powered campaign, using many millions of your tax dollars in this promotion.

It is the obligation of the public water supplier to furnish water which is wholesome and not harmful to any customer.

The pharmacy laws in many states prohibit giving fluorides and similar poisons to humans without a doctor's prescription filled by a registered pharmacist. Fluorides put into the public water supply flagrantly violates this law. In Nebraska it is unlawful even to give fluorides to anyone under 18 years of age even on prescription.

Agriculture laws in many states forbid the use of fluorides in anything for the consumption of farm animals because of the harmful effect on these animals, especially abortion. Fluoridation also violates this law.

We urge our legislature to take action to protect our people.

Sounds better all the time, doesn't it? It is. In fact, you have 25 days from monthly statement date to pay for your BankAmericard purchases at no extra cost whatsoever. And think of the convenience of receiving just one bill with copies of all your sales slips included, and writing just one check!

Here's a real bonus feature for weekends, emergencies, or when traveling away from home. Just present your Card at any participating BankAmericard bank, even overseas, and, for a small fee, charge "instant cash." Extend your payments if you wish.

Dealers' Board Official Ousted

E. J. Freese, executive secretary of the State Motor Vehicle Dealers License Board for the past eight years, was fired Tuesday from the $8,400-a-year post.

State Motor Vehicles Director Emmett J. Dennis, chairman of the seven-member board, said Freese's services were terminated by unanimous board action.

He said the board "felt that Mr. Freese hadn't been carrying out the assignments given him by the board."

"This came as a complete shock to me," said Freese following a closed-door meeting with the board. "I had no idea this was coming."

A letter, signed by Dennis and board members, informed Freese he would receive all pay and compensation due him through Wednesday, and would also receive an additional month's pay in the termination.

Freese said he was unable to learn any specific reason from Dennis or the board as to why he was being fired.

Freese is a member of the American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators, and is presently serving as national chairman of the manufacturers and dealers regulation committee.

CB&Q Shifts Announced

Alliance (AP) — About 1,000 miles of rail line from the McCook Burlington Division will be shifted to the jurisdiction of the Alliance Burlington Division March 1, Superintendent E. L. Phillips said here Tuesday.

A smaller part, including some 300 miles of track, will be transferred to the Lincoln division at the same time, he said. Phillips said an assistant superintendent will be in charge at McCook.

Phillips explained the transfer of the supervision as part of a plan for the merger of the Burlington with the Great Northern, Northern Pacific and Spokane, Portland and Seattle railways.

The transfer from the McCook Division to Alliance will include the Burlington main line from 15 miles west of Hastings at Kenesaw to the east edge of Denver. Also included in the expanded Alliance Division will be a line from Holdrege to Cheyenne, Wyo., via Sterling, Colo., two Kansas branches from the mainline to Oberlin and St. Francis, and a branch from the mainline to Red Cloud.

FFA Officers Aim Goodwill At City People

Salesmen for goodwill and a knowledge of agriculture and the interdependence of rural-urban America are active this week in thousands of communities across America.

This is because it is the National FFA Week for Goodwill Tours, when local and state Future Farmer of America chapters leave the farms and ranches and visit industry, business and government in the city.

State FFA President Andrew Jensen of Aurora says the key theme for 1969 is "FFA —An Opportunity for Youth" and the tours will offer an opportunity for FFA members to learn more about urban business and affairs while they tell their city friends how FFA provides an opportunity for youth in agriculture to learn leadership, citizenship and cooperation.

Jensen told Capital City Kiwanis members during a visit of state FFA officers to the service club that "FFA Goodwill Tour Week always falls during the week of President George Washington's birthday.

FFA recognizes George Washington, the father of our country, as a successful farmer and a leader in developing new farming practices.

FFA members remind those interested in better agriculture that President Washington conducted tests on fertilizer, better crops and soil conservation on the slopes of Mount Vernon and that this same tradition has been carried on in present day agriculture.

During the week, state FFA officers will visit Gov. Norbert Tiemann, state education offices, KOLN-TV, the Lincoln Journal-Star Publishing Co., the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture and Home Economics, Behlen Manufacturing Co., Columbus, the Nebraska Farmer and Farmland Industries at Lincoln.

The program will affect 80 children in Sidney, Lyman, Minatare and Mitchell.

Th agency, which has its headquarters here, serves five counties: Scotts Bluff, Cheyenne, Deuel, Kimball and Morrill.

Salary Changes For York School Teachers Told

York (AP) — York public school teachers will operate on a $6,000 salary base next year and receive a 5% annual raise plus an expanded fringe benefit package.

For teachers presently in the system, the new salary schedule will amount to an increase of about $45,000 or an average of $608 per teacher. Fringe benefits will rise about $115 per teacher — from the current $48 to $163 — under the negotiated contract. The present base is $5,900.

Administrative salaries also were boosted from $1,000 to $1,500 per year including a raise for Supt. Roger Clough to $19,000 per year.

TALK AROUND TOWN

Any month makes a delightful guest month — But this morning there is something a little extra-special about the visitors we are mentioning — It could be the influence of the recent St. Valentine's day, of course, although we doubt it — We're sure the touch of romance would be there, anyway.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray C. Johnson have a new granddaughter-in-law — Mrs. Gerald Lee Johnson who, before her marriage to Capt. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond C. Johnson, Jr., of Rochester, Mich., on Dec. 31, was Miss Jean Rogers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur A. Rogers of Grosse Ile, Mich.

Capt. and Mrs. Johnson spent a honeymoon in northern Michigan and then returned to Omaha where the army officer is stationed.

Last Thursday evening, however, Capt. and Mrs. Johnson came to Lincoln to be the dinner guests of Capt. Johnson's grandparents — but not as the special honorees — The incentive for the dinner, which was held at the University Club, was Mr. and Mrs. Johnson's granddaughter, Kimberly Peters, who was celebrating her 10th birthday anniversary.

Capt. Johnson and his bride plan to be frequent visitors in Lincoln.

* * *

Then we learned that Capt. William J. Williams is in town — the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Williams. Capt. Williams has just returned from a year's tour of duty in Vietnam where he was a transportation officer at Phu Lai, northwest of Saigon.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams, however, have been entertaining another houseguest — Capt. Williams' finacee, Miss Lucy Myslek, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Myslek of La Porte, Ind.

We hear that there are plans for a wedding this spring. The bride-elect is a graduate of St. Mary's College, Notre Dame, Ind. —and Capt. Williams is a graduate of the University of Nebraska.

Miss Myslek left a few days ago to return home, and at the end of his leave early in March, Capt. Williams will go to Colorado Springs, Colo., where he will be stationed at Camp Carson.

* * *

One day soon we shall begin calling the roll on winter vacationists who should be wending their way homeward in another week or two—

February Wedding For Former Coed

The candlelight wedding of Miss Leona Richters of Lincoln, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Richters, Stromsburg, and Gary Baker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Baker of Scottsbluff, took place Sunday afternoon, Feb. 2, at the Salem Lutheran Church in Stromsburg. The ceremony was solemnized at 4 o'clock by the Rev. G. M. Christensen.

Wearing floor-length frocks of silk velvet in tones of cameo pink and deep red were Mrs. Samuel Seever, Omaha, and Miss Linda Peterson, Stromsburg, the honor attendants and the bridesmaids, Miss Kae Parks, York, and Mrs. David Karr, Kearney.

Jack Gross of Scottsbluff, served Mr. Baker as best man, and the groomsmen were Charles Hohnstein, Omaha; Mike Smith, Scottsbluff; and Nick Richters, Lincoln. Seating the guests were Tom Parks, York; Dale Johnson, West Point; Gary Hrnicek, Bayard; and Charles Berger, Scottsbluff.

The bride's gown of white faille taffeta was touched with imported Alencon lace. Narrow ruffling of the lace edged the high throatline and cuffed the long sleeves, and an appliqued front panel of the lace continued the hem of the princess skirt, which was complemented by a court train. Her train-length veil of illusion was held by a crown of taffeta and lace.

Mr. and Mrs. Baker will make their home at 4124 F St., in Lincoln, where the bride is a student at Bryan Hospital School of Nursing. She is a former student at Nebraska Wesleyan University and a member of Phi Mu sorority. Mr. Baker received his degree in January from the University of Nebraska, where he is continuing graduate study.

Danekas of Lincoln, and Thomas Louis Weverka, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Weverka of Bruno. The service was solemnized at 7 o'clock by the Rev. Robert Bek of Omaha.

Miss Jeannie Marie Danekas, as her sister's maid of honor, and the bridesmaids, Miss Stephine Schnider, Waverly, Miss Barbara Rech, Omaha, and Mrs. Ronald Roby, Lincoln, were frocked in lavender chiffon and lace.

Serving his brother as best man was Norman B. Weverka of Omaha, and seating the guests were Richard Rech, Omaha; Larry Samek of Linwood; James Weverka and the bride's brothers, David Danekeas, Jr., and Mark Danekas, Lincoln.

The bride chose traditional white satin for her wedding gown. Designed in the Empire mode, with a snug bodice of lace, the gown was completed by an aisle-wide train.

Opening lead — king of hearts.

Having one defender on lead at a given moment may be much more dangerous to declarer than having the other defender on lead. In planning his campaign, therefore, declarer tries to shape his play so as to avoid the more dangerous opponent.

Take this deal where West leads a heart and South sees he may lose two spades and a club. The club loser is inevitable, so South concentrates on avoiding two spade losers.

One possible way of losing only one spade trick is to lead towards the K-J, hoping West has the ace or queen (or both). In that case, South can make the contract by playing the appropriate card from dummy after West follows suit.

However, declarer realizes that this method of play is fraught with danger, especially since it may turn out that East has the A-Q. He notes that a safer course of play is to lead the A-K and another club. If he finds the suit divided 3-2, it may be possible to discard two spades from dummy on his 9-8 of clubs.

This plan is better than attacking spades head-on, so declarer decides to lead clubs. But before proceeding with the A-K and another club, he first considers the possibility that West may win the third club lead and shift to a spade.

To prevent this, South tries to arrange matters so that the club trick is lost to East rather than to West. After winning the heart lead and cashing the A-K of trumps, he leads a low club.

If West follows low, South loses the seven to the jack and has no further difficulty making eleven tricks.

If West plays the ten on the first club lead, South wins in dummy, ruffs a heart, and leads another club. West has to play low this time, and when dummy's seven forces the jack, South once more has eleven tricks to show for his efforts.

ABBY: be smart — don't know all of the answers

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am 53 and have been a widow for three years. I keep my hand in business to keep occupied, but I have no money worries.

I dress fashionably, am well-groomed, I wear glasses and my figure is "so-so." I'm no beauty, and I look my age.

I would like to get married again, but I don't like old men, and young men don't like me. Don't tell me to travel. I've traveled plenty and all I meet is other women looking for men. Don't tell me to develop my personality. I have more "personality" than most men I know. Don't suggest contact lenses. I've tried them and can't wear them. And don't tell me to tint my hair. I already do. What can you do for me?

LOOKING

DEAR LOOKING: Nothing. No man wants a woman who anticipates all the questions and knows all the answers. If you really want a man, you'll have to come across more like a woman.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are expecting our first baby in about a month. We've arranged to have a woman come in (afternoons) to help with the cooking and cleaning the first two weeks.

The problem is my mother has informed us that she is coming as soon as the baby is born so she can "help" me. Abby, I wrote her some time ago, telling her that I wanted her to wait until the baby is a month old, but she apparently ignored my suggestion.

My mother is extremely critical and I am her favorite target. She makes me nervous. The last time she visited us, my husband threatened to send her packing if she didn't lay off me.

How can I tell my mother to please stay home that first month without causing a major rift?

UPSET MOTHER-TO-BE

DEAR UPSET: Tell your mother again, just as you have told me, that you will welcome her when the baby is one month old — but not before. If it causes a major rift, be prepared to accept it. Otherwise prepare to be criticized, AND upset.

CONFIDENTIAL TO WORRIED PARENTS IN PITTSBURGH: No. We don't need a "new" code of morals. What we need is the courage and wisdom to live up to the old ones.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069 and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Keep up with real depth reporting on government, state and community affairs in the Capital Section of the "Sunday Journal and Star."

League Coffee

The League of Women Voters of Lincoln held an open meeting and coffee, Tuesday evening, at the home of Mrs. Russel Meints, for women interested in the activities and programs of the league.

League members will speak on the group's various activities, and State Senator Fern Orme will talk on, "The League of Women Voters and the Nebraska Legislature".

County Engineer Explains Reason For Lower Budget

By GERRY SWITZER
Star Staff Writer

About 35 Lancaster County residents appeared Tuesday for the public hearing on the proposed $1,709,000 1969 road program, submitted by Lancaster County Engineer Walter Hoppe.

In explaining the proposed program, which is about $200,000 less than the 1968 proposed program, Hoppe said that several factors were responsible for the proposed expenditures being down.

He said that the county had lost a considerable amount in revenue due to elimination of personal property and intangible taxes, and that the county board had lowered the special road and bridge levy .82 mill.

No Reimbursement

Also, Hoppe said, there is a question of available recreational road funds and there would be no reimbursement from the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers for recreational lakes as in recent years.

Hoppe's proposed program calls for 9.3 miles of new paving, another 3.25 miles of road financed last year with federal funds but not completed, 35.75 miles of road grading with county forces and 16 new bridges.

Joe R. Seacrest, representing the Streets and Highways Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, struck out at the county board for lowering the special road and bridge levies and allowing the county to "fall further and further behind in meeting the needs." needs."

13 or 14 Years

He said that he realized last year was an election year and the "terrifying thing is that two county commissioners will be up for re-election next year . . . and if they keep on at the present rate it will take 13 or 14 years to complete the 10-year road program."

Seacrest said the county is already $800,000 behind in its expenditures in the first three years of the 10-year program.

To keep up with the program, he noted that the minimum annual rate of spending would be $10,405,000, while the actual rate for the first three years is $7,667,000.

He also pointed out that the commissioners of Douglas County are working with Omaha to solve the area's problems rather than fighting with them.

'More Leadership'

"The chamber would like to look for more leadership on the part of the commissioners in recognizing this is a metropolitan area," he said.

"The county is weakening its case for need of county funds when it doesn't levy as much for roads as it did in previous years.....this is causing a credibility gap causing wonder about how serious are the needs of the county," Seacrest added.

He suggested that the county consider its responsibility to levy for self-help this year and that it transfer funds from the inheritance tax fund for roads to get back on the 10-year schedule.

Shortchanged

Carl Johnson of Davey, spokesman for nine residents living along the Waverly Road West, told the board that they were getting shortchanged in that end of the county.

He said the late Hugh Dillon, former Lancaster County engineer, had told him at least five years ago that that road would be hard-surfaced within two years, but "you can drive down around Hickman, Holland, Panama and Firth and those roads are blacktopped."

Maurice Helmink of Holland, representing the Holland Church, requested that blacktopped road be extended about 400 or 500 feet around the corner to the edge of the church property so that the church can hire a contractor to finish off its parking area.

Requesting rock and gravel for a stretch of road on the Saline-Lancaster county line near Denton was Roy Walin of Denton, while Gerald TeKolste and Maurice Vanderguard of Firth expressed appreciation for the new road in their area.

Roads Said Better

Hal Schroeder of the Salt Valley Watershed District and the Chamber of Commerce stated that Lancaster County has better roads than those of the adjoining counties because it has the tax revenue from Lincoln.

Seacrest said that 85% of the revenue comes from Lincoln, the residents of which actually pay twice for roads since they also are assessed per frontage foot on residential paving.

Taking a poll of the rural residents present, Seacrest asked how many would be willing to pay higher taxes to get their roads fixed, to which only the Waverly Road residents responded in the affirmative.

None present indicated willingness to pay a county wheel tax or increased gas taxes for roads, when the questions were posed.

First Offices Moving Into New Building

The first offices to move into the new County-City Building will begin a three-day move Wednesday with operation of the district courts and the office of the clerk of the district court scheduled in the new building Thursday.

According to Lancaster County Clerk Otis Nelson, support money and filings will be accepted Wednesday through the old office but no support payments would be going out and no summons or restraining orders will be issued Wednesday.

County Board OKs Budget For LOMR

Lancaster County commissioners Tuesday approved the total budget for the Lancaster County Office of Mental Retardation (LOMR) which was officially formed last week.

The board last year had appropriated $15,500 in the 1968-69 budget for LOMR, but because of questions on the total $46,375 budget, had deferred approval last week.

The budget provides for $10,000 federal funds, $13,295 in client tuition, $570 client board, $5,760 from the Community Chest and $1,250 from transportation.

In other action, the board Tuesday approved an application of Ben Dolan for a bottle club license at the Kraal Club at 3735 No. 1st.

No one appeared in opposition to the application.

Eastern Cherry County May Go To Central Time

Washington (UPI) — Attorney Robert A. Nelson of Lincoln said Tuesday he was hopeful the Transportation Department would investigate the possibility of putting eastern Cherry County in the Central Time Zone.

A petition to move the area from the Mountain Time Zone was filed with the department last month, and Nelson said federal officials told him "we had made a very good showing." He said a decision is expected soon.

If the department rules favorably, he said, residents of the area will be given about 45 days to send their views to Washington.

HUAC Turned Into HISC

© New York Times Service

Washington — The House voted Tuesday to give its controversial Un-American Activities Committee a new name and, some claimed, a chance to carve a new public image.

Renamed the House Internal Security Committee, the panel thus abandoned its old, familiar intials, HUAC, and acquired a new set — HISC.

"A rose by any other name . . . " longtime critics of the committee said as they sought to block the name change, in hopes of abolishing the committee entirely.

They failed, by a vote of 262 to 123. But while losing, critics made their best showing in nearly 20 years of attempts to abolish the committee.

In previous years, opponents failed to muster more than 90 votes for abolition.

Scoffing at claims that a name change would improve the committee, Rep. Philip Burton, D-Calif., reminded colleagues of an old Al Capp comic strip in which "the Dogpatch city council met to change the name of the skunk works to the Ozark perfume factory."

The smallest but most controversial of all congressional committees, HUAC has had a turbulent career in its pursuit of Communist, educators, actors, peace leaders, Klansmen, alleged subversives and, most recently, instigators of the riots at last summer's Democratic National Convention.

After becoming chairman last fall, Richard Ichord, D-Mo., vowed to "improve the committee's image."

A first step came last month when four moderate-to-liberal Democrats were named to the nine-member committee. Included was the committee's first Negro, Louis Stokes of Ohio.

Master Plan Of Airport May Require Revisions

By THOMAS EKVALL
Star Staff Writer

Lincoln Airport Authority members were told Tuesday a new master plan will be required by the Federal Aviation Administration should the authority adopt an airport expansion plan now being prepared by a Chicago airport consultant firm.

Carl Christophersen, project engineer with Harold Hoskins and Associates, which prepared the original master plan for airport development, said the plan "must then be updated and conform to new FAA requirements."

Christophersen said new criteria includes preparation of plans on airport approaches, land use facilities and clear zones.

He said the plans being developed by Ralph Burke Co. of Chicago would alter the present master plan.

Federal Aid Affected

Christophersen said federal grants would not be made available to the Airport Authority for such items as aprons unless a new master plan is approved by the FAA.

The project engineer asked that the airport authority seek the services of his firm should the authority approve the proposed airport expansion plan of Ralph Burke Co.

Chairman Joe Hampton said the authority has not accepted the airport consultant's report.

Proposal Filed

"We will place your proposal on file until we handle the Burke report," Hampton said.

Rolland Harr, executive director of the Airport Authority, said Larry Donoghue, who was scheduled to present a final report Tuesday on the airport expansion, had not finished the report.

Harr said copies of the report would be available to airport authority members before next month's meeting on March 18.

The authority approved a resolution regarding the Lincoln Housing Authority's purchase of the air base housing area from the federal government.

The resolution states that future development of the municipal airport, including Air Park West and the former Huskerville, will be of a nature that will not jeopardize the compatable use of the housing area for rental housing.

Airport Attorney Chauncey Barney reported the local airlines have asked for a one-month extension on negotiations of their leases and landing fees.

The authority, which is seeking increased fees from United and Frontier Airlines, approved the one-month delay.

Report Suggested

Fred Eiche, a board member, suggested that a report be prepared for mailing to different airlines on the potential in and out traffic at the municipal airport.

"It would be beneficial to have other airlines know what is happening at Lincoln in case we need support at any upcoming hearing on airline service," Eiche said.

Harr and Barney agreed to prepare such a report.

Plant Old Seeds

Tokyo (AP) — Japanese archeologists in Mito, north of Tokyo, say they have successfully germinated 1,400-year-old chickweed and pigweed seeds. The scientists said they found the seeds in two ancient buildings recently planted them in charred chaff in a hothouse.

$3.4 Million Needed To Build Telecommunications Center

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

The Nebraska Educational Television Commission Tuesday advised the Legislature that a $3.4 million appropriation is required to construct and equip the proposed ETV Telecommunications Center.

In an advisory letter, the commission noted low bids for the ETV Center on the University of Nebraska East Campus amounted to $3,328,000.

The additional money requested in the appropriation is estimated for architect's fees and contingencies, according to ETV Manager Jack McBride.

McBride also noted a $69,000 saving in construction bids could be effected if contracts were signed prior to April 4. The contractor bids otherwise remain firm until Aug. 4.

Earlier this year, the Legislature authorized the commission to secure construction bids for the building, and indicated appropriation of funds would be considered later.

The commission also discussed without action the need to provide funds in the future for production equipment at the two programming centers in Lincoln and Omaha.

Until now, the commission said all funds have been earmarked for ETV transmitting facilities and operations, and no money has been available for program production centers.

In other action:

—the commission employed Mrs. Betty Jeanne Keller of Lincoln as an informational specialist at $6,500 annually.

—announced the Nebraska Educational Television Network will inaugurate a weekly series of broadcasts on the 1969 Unicameral beginning March 2.

The program series will summarize the weekly activities of the Legislature.

Husker Loss Cheered

Short shots while wondering if there was any significance to the fact that it seemed nearly everyone in the crowd of 7,500, who watched the Midwest Golden Gloves finals in Omaha Saturday night, cheered when Nebraska's basketball loss to Iowa State was announced:

Lincolnite Larry Shepard's Pittsburgh Pirates will be playing on Tartan, an artificial surface, when they move into their new stadium for the 1970 season.

Spencer Haywood, the University of Detroit sophomore who joined Jo Jo White in leading the U.S. Olympic basketball victory, says he's ready for pro ball right now.

"I'd be a blocking center like Bill Russell on defense and a driving forward like Elgin Baylor on offense," Haywood says in the current issue of Look Magazine.

Members of the New York Jets and Oakland Raiders received record shares for their American Football League championship game at Shea Stadium with each Jet getting $7,007.91 and each Raider collecting $5,349.42.

O. J. Simpson has yet to play his first down for the Buffalo Bills, but Buffalo quarterback Jackie Kemp claims when he was introduced to a fellow the other day on a business matter, the fellow responded, "Oh yes, you're on the same team with O. J. Simpson."

From 6 To 76

Two new hole-in-one records were marked up during the 1968 golfing season, according to Golf Digest, the official clearing house for hole-in-ones.

Tommy Moore became the youngest at age 6 when he aced the 145-yard fourth hole at a West Virginia course last March. He repeated the feat on the same hole in October.

Mrs. Howard Coffman of Naples, Fla., scored a hole-in-one on a 128-yard hole at the Naples Country Club. Her age—76.

No one even came close to Omahan Bob Mitera's record for the longest hole-in-one, scored by him at Omaha's Miracle Hills a few years back.

Another hole-in-one record that isn't likely to be approached for awhile is the oldest man, a record held by T. S. South, who pulled the feat at the age of 91.

Only holes-in-one scored on regulation courses are counted by Golf Digest in its compilations. Par-3 courses are not included.

Snow Causes Problems

When that 34-inch snowstorm hit Oregon a couple of weeks ago, Oregon basketball coach Steve Belko had problems.

"I couldn't get out of the house for four days and since I was a bachelor (his wife was in Idaho with a sick relative), I ran out of both clean dishes and food," he moans.

Kenneth Olsen of Holdrege was one of 11 grand prize winners in Golf Digest's Hole-In-One Sweepstakes with the prize being a trip to a golf resort of his choice, but to stay under the amateur rules, the plane fare can't be more than $100.

That pretty well narrows Olsen's trip down to the Lochland Country Club at Hastings or the Riverside Golf Club at Grand Island unless he chooses to go by bus, then he might be able to go as far as Lincoln's Hillcrest Country Club.

Then there was the fellow, whose doctor told him to quit drinking, smoking and going out with women. When the fellow inquired if it would make him live longer, the doctor replied, "No, but it'll seem like it."

WESLEYAN RAMBLES, 118-96

. . . 300th Coaching Win For Peterson; Ahl Hits 34

By JOHN HINES
Star Sports Writer

Nebraska Wesleyan scored the third highest point total of any Plainsman team ever Tuesday night to give coach Irv Peterson his 300th victory in a 118-94 romp over Hastings College at Ira J. Taylor Gymnasium.

The only times NWU ever scored more was 122 against Doane in 1964 and 119 against York, then a four-year school in 1953. Both of those games were on the road, so the Plainsmen set a homecourt record with this explosion, which came on 60 per cent shooting from the field.

In addition to Peterson's milestone, achieved in the 469th game he has coached in 19 years at the Plainsman helm, NWU's Kenny Ahl made big strides toward Rudy Stoehr's school career scoring mark with a 34-point burst.

A large delegation from his hometown of Louisville came down to watch Ahl play, presenting him with a plaque at halftime, and he didn't let them down, banging home 15 buckets, about two-thirds of them from long range, and four free throws.

Ahl now has 1,606 career points, just 12 short of Stoehr's mark, and will go for the record in Wesleyan's last home game, next Wednesday night against Oral Roberts, Okla., a good team which held him to only seven last year in a 109-72 win over the Plainsmen in Tulsa, Okla.

Should he still fall short after that game, Ahl will have one more chance, in the season finale at Dana the next night. He got 17 against Dana in the Midwest Tourney earlier this season.

Two other Plainsmen contributed the bulk of the scoring against Hastings, which was the rubber game of a three-game series this year. John Brown fired in 33 points, his second-highest effort of the year, while Kim Busch came up with his best mark of the campaign with 24 points.

Ernie Strasil grabbed 17 rebounds, a single-game high for a Wesleyan player this season, while the other starter, Tom Brown, added 14 points.

Wesleyan hit 29-of-49 from the floor the first half and had 53-for-88 for the whole game. The Plainsmen constructed a 63-40 halftime lead and a jumper by Busch put them over the century mark at 101-71 with eight minutes left.

Bill Johnson, a freshman from Minden, fired in the first eight Hastings points and 12 of the first 16 on six buckets, three long jumpers and three fast-break layups, as the Broncos held a 16-13 lead after 6½ minutes.

However, Wesleyan outscored Hastings, 13-2, the next two minutes to take a 26-17 lead and the margin just kept getting bigger. Hastings was never closer than 18 points the entire second half.

Johnson and Glenn Mays both had 25 for the Broncs, with 19 of Mays' markers coming in the second half. Bronco coach Lynn Farrell employed an all-freshman lineup for about the last 10 minutes. The Broncs now stand 8-17 with two games to go. Wesleyan is 12-12.

Genuchi Earns Player Award

. . . PACES PALMYRA WIN

By VIRGIL PARKER
Prep Sports Writer

Usually, when a basketball player becomes a game's high point man, a great number of his scoring will come at the free throw line. Ten or 15 charity tosses, accumulated from fouls while driving to the basket or in a scramble for another offensive rebound is not uncommon.

The absence of such extra scoring chances is what makes Bill Genuchi's feat so different and gains him recognition as the Player of the Week.

The Palmyra senior not only led his club to a whopping win over Elk Creek last week, but scored his game-pacing 32 points on 16 field goals. It isn't that he's not accurate at the free throw line. He didn't get a single chance from there during the entire game.

Elk Creek had beaten Palmyra in the Mudecas Conference tournament. Genuchi not only led the way in the revenge win, but he and his mates broke an all time school scoring record in doing so, piling up a 107 to 64 triumph.

Genuchi had a hot hand in his spree from the field. He canned all but three of his 19 attempts to break the 80 percent mark in accuracy while garnering those 32 points.

Others who deserve mention for outstanding games the past week include:

Steve Bailey, Beatrice — Led the Orangemen with 23 points as they scared the life out of No. 1 rated Lincoln Northeast before succumbing 55-53.

Jay Chapman, Geneva — Scored 30 points, 18 in the second half to overcome a 59-41 deficit and pace Geneva to an 85-73 win over York. Chapman also led the rebounding department.

Steve Grossart, Wolbach — Hit 15 field goals enroute to a 31-point performance against Sacred Heart in the first round of the Cedar Valley Conference tourney. Wolbach eventually won the league title by downing top ten rated Spalding Academy.

Keith Rohwer, Cedar Bluffs — Tallied 23 points in pacing his club to its second close win over district challenger Yutan, this time by a 66-65 count in overtime.

John Mathes, Grant — His 26 points against Trenton paced Grant to its third win of last week and the Frenchman Valley Conference crown. The defending Class C state champs are now 17-2 as they drive toward a repeat chance at the state title.

NU Athletes Score Well With Books

Nebraska winter sports athletes set some dandy standards in the scholastics department, a check of first-semester grades shows.

Few teams could match the grade production of the Husker freshman basketball team.

Led by Curt LeRossignol's spectacular 4.28 average, the young Huskers racked up some fine grades. Chuck Jura had 3.2 (Social Sciences), Al Nissen 3.4 in pre-Med, Mike Peterson 3.23 in Business Administration, Jim White 3.07 in Bus-Ad and Luther Frerichs 3.7 in Pharmacy.

LeRossignol launched his college career in great fashion, pulling down A-pluses in Math and Chemistry and A's in English and Computer Science — 16 hours of either A or A-plus. A 4.0 grade would mean an A.

The unbeaten Nebraska track team can boast about some top scholars, too.

Top banana in the grade race has to be middle distance man John Simmons of Scottsbluff. A senior, and member of the Innocents Society and Phi Beta Kappa, Simmons has had only one grade below an A in his entire college career. That came once when he needed an elective course to fill out his schedule. He chose a "snap" art course and wound up with a B to spoil his record. Simmons first-semester lineup of A's came in Zoology, Economics, Philosophy and History.

Among the other track team scholars are Mel Campbell 3.3, Brian Spencer 3.0, Matt Williams 3.0, Bob Tupper 3.1, Ken Meier 3.5 and Bill Daiss 3.4.

Big Upsets Shuffle Top Ten Positions

. . . UCLA STILL ON TOP

Compiled From News Wires

Frank McGuire, the talented coach who built basketball powerhouses at St. John's and North Carolina, is slightly ahead of schedule in his efforts to develop South Carolina into a national leader.

McGuire's program to return respectability to the Gamecocks, took a big step forward Tuesday when the young South Carolina squad jumped to the No. 11 spot in the latest weekly United Press International major college ratings.

Meanwhile, the ratings of the top ten teams on both the UPI and Associated Press polls were shuffled somewhat after a week of upsets. UCLA remained a unanimous choice on both charts.

Santa Clara moved ahead of North Carolina into the No. 2 spot on the lists after the Tar Heels were upset by South Carolina Friday night.

UPI had Davidson replacing Kentucky in the No. 4 spot, LaSalle jumped from seventh to fifth, the Wildcats were sixth, St. John's was rated seventh, with Purdue, Villanova and Duquesne rounding out the top ten.

On the AP poll, LaSalle moved up to fourth behind North Carolina, with Davidson fifth and Kentucky sixth. St. John's, Duquesne, Purdue and Ohio State completed the listing.

State Mat Meet On Tap This Weekend

The annual State High School Wrestling meet is slated in the NU Coliseum Friday and Saturday. Some 150 teams are vying for spots in the two-day carnival, according to meet director Orval Borgialli.

Friday sessions are at 1:30 p.m., and 7:30 p.m., with the Saturday matches slated for 10 a.m., 1 p.m and 7:30 p.m.

Nebraska's hard-luck wrestling team will take on South Dakota immediately following the Saturday afternoon session of the state meet.

Injuries have really plagued the Huskers to date. Latest knee victim is Lincoln's Bobby Orta. Jim Tiensvold is also out with a knee, while Randy Geiger has a broken leg and Bill Watson has a pinned shoulder.

"Jim Haug has really come well for us, winning his last three matches," Borgialli said. "He's gaining confidence and is probably our most improved wrestler."

Four Grid Games On Sellout Basis

University of Nebraska ticket boss Jim Pittenger reports that an eighth straight year of record football attendance is in prospect for 1969.

"Based on the best possible estimates of public season ticket renewals, student sales, faculty and employe sales and single-game orders already received, we are now on a sellout basis for four games," Pittenger said.

Pittenger points to the opener against Southern California Sept. 20 and later games against Texas A&M (Sept. 27), Kansas (Oct. 18) and Colorado (Nov. 1) as being in the sellout category.

Only game not listed as a sellout at this time is the Nov. 8 homecoming game against Iowa State.

Sterling Loses By 11 But Gets Class D Nod

. . . ELMWOOD DROPS TO SECOND

By VIRGIL PARKER
Prep Sports Writer

For the first time in prep rating history, a team has taken over the leadership of its division by losing a game! Sterling, the early season pacesetter in Class D, earns the honor.

The Jets, a Class C state tournament semifinalist a year ago, sat at the top rung of the Class D ladder early this season until the Elmwood Pirates knocked them off with a win in the Mudecas tourney finals.

The two clubs are still the cream of the lower division crop, but both suffered setbacks at the hands of Class C teams over the past weekend.

Elmwood loses the No. 1 spot, despite its win over Sterling, having stumbled to unranked Louisville by 27 points. It was the first loss for the Pirates after 18 straight wins.

Sterling dropped its second game in 19 outings, but by just an 11-point margin on the enemy floor against Johnson-Brock, the No. 4 ranked Class C club, and the only unbeaten team in that bigger school division.

Barring further upsets, the two clubs will have a chance to settle the issue between them later. Both will be heavily favored to win their respective district tournaments next week, then tangle for a state tourney berth in a showdown battle at Tri-County on Thursday, March 6.

No other change occured in the Class D top ten, based on games played through last Saturday. In action postponed by last weekend's snow, No. 7 Lexington St. Ann's suffered a Monday night defeat and No. 3 Wolbach justified its position ahead of No. 9 Spalding Academy with a 63-58 win to take the Cedar Valley Conference championship.

4—Clarks (13-2)	9—Spalding Academy (11-3)
5—Wolbach (13-3)	10—Cedar Bluffs (15-1)

Comment—In an unusual twist, Sterling takes over first place after losing a game. The Jets lost by nine points to Class C's only unbeaten team, Johnson-Brock. Elmwood, which handed the Jets their only other loss, suffered its first defeat of the year and dropped to second. The loss came to an unranked C team, Louisville, by 27 points. The two clubs are still both the cream of the Class D crop.

York JC Blasts Fairbury, 101-85

Fairbury (AP) — York Junior College emerged from a halftime tie to rack up a second half lead of as many as 17 points to down Fairbury Junior College, 101-85, in Nebraska Junior College Conference basketball action here Tuesday night.

Sophomore center Slim Goodman dumped in 27 points for York, which has now won 12 of its last 14 games and recorded its third win of the year over Fairbury.

Committee Kills Diving Proposal

The Legislature's Public Health Committee Tuesday drowned the bill to regulate skin and scuba diving in Nebraska.

The vote on the kill motion on LB79 was 4-2 after a move to send the bill to the floor was defeated 3-3.

The measure, sponsored by Sen. Robert Clark of Sidney, would have required all divers to tke part in certified training programs and all retailers of diving tanks to be licensed.

Nebraska Gymnasts Host KU Saturday

The Nebraska gymnastics team plays host to Kansas in a dual meet Saturday afternoon.

The 2 p.m., competition will be held at the Men's Physical Education Building. The Husker gymnasts are 1-4 for the season.

Pittsburg State Makes Track Meet Triangular

Nebraska track coach Frank Sevigne has announced the addition of Pittsburg State, joining Iowa State, for a triangular track meet Saturday at the NU indoor plant.

The three-team scamper will be a final tune-up for the Big Eight indoor championships, slated Feb. 28-March 1 at Kansas City.

Nebraska defeated Southern Illinois and South Dakota State in a triangular to open the indoor season, then followed up with dual trouncings of Kansas State and Colorado.

Highlight of the season has been the mile running of soph Greg Carlberg of Omaha, who last week against Colorado set another school and stadium record with a 4:08.8. Mike Houck of Iowa State ran 4:09.8 against Drake, so a fine race could develop if they meet in that event.

Pittsburg State has a 1:49.6 half-miler in Walter Smith and the Kansans can point with pride to high jumper Rick Old (6-7) and shot-putter Howard Jannewein (54-0).

Field events will start at 1:30 p.m., with the running events at 2 p.m.

Long Fight Possible In Baseball Struggle

. . . ONLY TOKEN CREWS IN CAMPS

New York (AP) — The baseball players and owners appeared to be digging in for a long fight over the pension plan Tuesday as training camps continue to open with only a token crew of rookies or non-roster players on hand.

Marvin Miller, executive director of the Major League Players Association, was busy contacting the members of his executive board over the new offer of a $200,000 increase that would raise the pension package to $5.3 million a year.

When they increased their offer Monday, the owners, through John Gaherin, head of their negotiating committee, rejected Miller's suggestion of binding arbitration.

The players, who have said they will refuse to sign contracts or report to training camp until the pension squabble is settled, had offered to sign and report if the owners had accepted arbitration. Actually early spring training is voluntary. The players are required to report by March 1, the real strike deadline.

Miller recommended rejection of the new offer by the 24 player representatives and the two league player reps who make up the executive committee. The two league representatives are Tom Haller of the Los Angeles Dodgers and Steve Hamilton of the New York Yankees.

Miller said he expected to complete his poll sometime Wednesday.

"The players are staying together remarkably well," said Miller. "The owners still are testing them. They have laid down the gauntlet. They want to fight. The players proposed a peaceful means of settlement by binding arbitration. We will continue to negotiate."

Asked what the next step would be, Miller said, "It all depends on what the board thinks."

On the possibility of a poll of the membership, Miller said, "In a way it does not make much sense to have a 2½-week delay at this time." It took 2½ weeks to poll the members in December when the original offer was turned down by a 491-7 vote.

The players want $6.5 million and the owners' latest offer is $5.3 million. Although they still are $1.2 million apart, the money is not the only hang-up.

The owners rejected the players' suggestion that part of the money be used to start a severance pay plan and to provide for life insurance for retired players.

In making their latest offer the owners said benefits for 10-year players could be increased from $500 a month to $590 (the players want $600), plus various improvements in health and insurance benefits and the possibility of collecting pension at the age of 45 at a reduced rate.

Miller said there was no provision for any increase at all for players who had been in the majors over 10 years.

As far as the owners are concerned, Gaherin said "The next move is up to the players."

Ramos Slashes To Title

Los Angeles (AP) — Young Mando Ramos, opening a savage gash over his opponent's left eye in the eighth round, went on to stop world champion Teo Cruz in the 11th round of their scheduled 15-round fight Tuesday night for the title.

Referee John Thomas halted the wild slugging match after 2:41 of the 11th as an estimated 15,000 fans in the Sports Arena went into a frenzy of excitement.

The brawl was a rematch of their title engagement in Los Angeles last Sept. 27 in which the 31-year-old Cruz, from the Dominican Republic, retained the crown by unanimous decision.

Cruz, in his second defense of the crown, weighed 134¾ and the 20-year-old Ramos, from Long Beach, Calif., weighed 134½.

Before the dramatic finish, referee Thomas had Ramos in front 5-3. Judge Dick Young had Cruz ahead 6-3 and judge George Latka had it even, 4-4.

It was only the second time the champion from Santo Dominguez had been stopped. Carlos Hernandez scored a second-round knockout over him in 1963.

Under California rules, the victory goes as a knockout. There is no technical knockout under the regulations here.

Ramos, the ring idol of the teen-agers, a dark-haired, skinny-legged young fellow, scored his 26th victory and 17th knockout in a career that is only four years old. He has lost three fights, one of them to Cruz in the first match. Cruz now has a record of 53-15-2.

Alcindor To Nets In Secret Draft?

Oakland (AP) — The American Basketball Association completed the first two rounds of its college draft — with Lew Alcindor going to the New York Nets — by means of secret conference telephone call, the Oakland Tribune reported Tuesday.

In a dispatch from Houston, Paul McCarthy of the Tribune wrote that six of the ABA's 11 teams confirmed that the secret draft had been held Saturday, but that they wouldn't allow use of their names.

Standards For Health Care Approved

. . . BY HOSPITAL AND HEALTH COUNCIL

By LUCILLE HOWARD
Star Staff Writer

Criteria for new or expanded long-term health care facilities in the area were approved by the Lincoln Hospital and Health Council Tuesday.

Members also approved rules of procedure for applying the criteria as requests for Hospital and Health Council endorsement of proposed facilities are evaluated.

The action was taken as council members approved seven recommendations of the nursing home advisory committee, which had evaluated a consulting firm's report on Lincoln needs and recommendations for future planning related to long-term care.

Questions Returned

Three questions were referred back to the nursing home committee for its evaluation and recommendations to the Hospital and Health Council board.

Members agreed that the committee should study further the questions of state versus local administration of public welfare and of the licensure of skilled nursing care homes as convalescent hospitals.

Also proposed for further study was the adequacy of Lancaster County's payments for welfare nursing home patients. Specific suggestions for legislation, if necessary, also were requested.

Board members accepted the A. T. Kearney Company's projections for nursing home bed and personnel requirements, with a provision for annual updating.

Needs Outlined

According to the consulting firm, Lincoln will need 479 more skilled nursing beds for a total of 1,333 by 1980 and needs 263 more beds this year. Fifty professional and 227 non-professional personnel will be required for skilled nursing home beds by 1980.

Board members approved the recommendation to "discourage any attempts to dilute the present laws" related to the grandfather clause in licensing rules and regulations "as well as discourage future attempts to license converted dwellings as personal care or skilled nursing care facilities."

According to the board's action, criteria for future new or expanded nursing home facilities include keeping the number of beds and per diem rates within the projections of overall community requirements and conforming the physical facility to all requirements of state and city building and fire safety codes.

Unbalance Avoided

The board also decided that its endorsement must be for the total amount of beds and auxiliary facilities requested so that an unbalanced physical plant will not result.

Since the board has no authority over health facilities other than persuasive power, members decided to disseminate the Kearney planning report to nursing home operators, financial institutions and other interested persons.

At the request of federal officials reviewing the Hospital and Health Council and Vision 17 request for comprehensive health planning funds, members approved changing the name of the group to the Southeast Nebraska Health Planning Council in other action Tuesday.

The 24 hospital council members will serve as Lancaster County representatives on the southeast Nebraska council, which will include some 17 counties. However, the Lincoln group also will continue to function as it has in the past regarding matters affecting this area only.

Objections Voiced

Hospital and Health Council members voiced objections to the statements made earlier this week by Human Rights Commission Chairman Gary Hill, who had complained about the lack of Negroes in medical and legal professions here.

Council member Herb Hopkins pointed out that, a Negro, Dr. Logan Griffin, is head of the anesthesiology section at Lincoln General Hospital, and is a member of the Lancaster County Medical Society.

Griffin, who has been in Lincoln for two years, is "well accepted by the Medical Society and the medical community," declared Dr. Harlan Papenfuss.

Hill reportedly had said that local medical men would make acceptance very difficult and affiliation with hospitals and related organizations virtually impossible.

Pueblo's Six Officers Broke Conduct Code On First Day

Coronado, Calif. (AP) — The USS Pueblo's six officers first broke the U.S. Code of Conduct for prisoners the day after their capture and without torture from the North Koreans, the ship's operations officer testified Tuesday.

Lt. (j.g.) Frederich Schumacher Jr., 25, told a Navy court of inquiry the code was broken when the officers revealed their jobs on the intelligence ship.

Schumacher said he later signed a fraudulent confession of spying after being beaten and threatned with death.

The ship's skipper, Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher, and second in command, Lt. Edward R. Murphy Jr., earlier said they signed false confessions after mental and physical torture and death threats.

Schumacher said he thought the code was first violated after the officers were taken in a group before a North Korean general, six to eight other Korean officers and six to eight guards in a long, dark room at a prison the men called "The Barn."

Schumacher said "the largest single influence I had" toward giving the confession was knowing that the North Koreans already knew what the crew would tell them.

The code of conduct, promulgated by former President Eisenhower after the Korean War, forbids U.S. servicemen to tell their captors anything but name, rank, serial number and date of birth.

Leaflets Urge Saigon Ouster

New York Times Service

Paris — Many Vietnamese residents here and elsewhere in France received leaflets in their language Tuesday urging them to support the establishment of a "peace cabinet" in Saigon.

The leaflets were purportedly issued by a new nationalist Vietnamese group known as "Reconstruction," but were generally understood to reflect the policies of the National Liberation Front, or Viet Cong.

The appeal for the overthrow of the present Saigon regime said South Vietnam needed "a real nationalist civilian government made up of young, dynamic, honest technicians who have not participated in any of the Saigon cabinets since 1954."

Such a government, the leaflets asserted, would "fulfill the deep desires of the entire South Vietnamese population."

The leaflets, delivered by mail and by volunteers, were prepared to coincide with Tet, the lunar new year, which was observed Monday.

It is expected that on Thursday at the next session of the Vietnam peace talks the Communist side will renew its demands for the creation of a "peace cabinet."

4 Men Threaten Diving To Deaths

Rome (AP) — Four men perched on precarious ledges high on Rome's ancient colosseum Tuesday and threatened to jump to their deaths. All four finally climbed down, the last of the four after 14 hours.

The four, all from Sardinia and out of work, staged their jump threat, they said, to call attention to their jobless distress.

Judiciary Panel Forwards Motor Vehicle Homicide Bill

A bill making motor vehicle homicide a felony only when involving careless, willful reckless or drunk driving was advanced Tuesday by the Legislature's Judiciary Committee with the emergency clause attached.

The measure, LB556, principally introduced by Sen. Fred W. Carstens of Beatrice, would make all other forms of motor vehicle homicide a misdemeanor.

Sen. Carstens said the present Nebraska law, making all forms of motor vehicle homicide a felony punishable by up to 10 years' imprisonment, "is the harshest rule in any of the 50 states."

Lancaster County Atty. Paul Douglas concurred in the intent of the Carsten's bill and offered amendments adopted by the committee which he said "would give prosecuting attorneys and trial judges greater latitude in motor vehicle homicide cases."

The committee also reported to the floor of the Legislature three other measures which received no opposition in public hearing:

—LB335, making it a punishable misdemeanor to make a false report of an emergency to law enforcement officers, hospitals, ambulance services or other persons engaged in providing emergency medical service, or refusing to relinquish a telephone party line for an emergency message. Maximum penalty would be $500 or six months in jail.

—LB474, making the defrauding of an innkeeper a felony when the value of the food, lodging or other accommodations is $35 or more. The penalty established was a fine $1,000 to $5,000 or imprisonment of one to three years.

—LB602, making possession of a weapon capable of inflicting death or injury a felony while a person is in commission of any felony.

State Officials Plan To Consider Effects Of Rejecting Auto Testing

The Legislature's Public Works Committee will meet Friday with the Department of Motor Vehicles to consider the ramifications of possible abandonment of the state's mandatory motor vehicle inspection program, Sen. Rick Budd of Nebraska City said Tuesday.

Sen. Budd said his committee will review the rules and regulations with the advisory board which established them, "to see just what we've got."

In the meantime, Sen. C. W. Holmquist of Oakland will visit Washington, D.C., to discuss minimum federal standards and compare them with Nebraska's inspection standards.

Could Lose Aid

A U.S. Transportation Department spokesman said Tuesday Nebraska stands a chance of losing federal funds if the Legislature's move to halt the inspections is not rescinded.

The lawmakers Monday adopted a resolution suspending the effective date of the entire program until such time as new rules and regulations spelling out standards for all motor vehicles are established in Nebraska.

The federal spokesman said Nebraska could lose all federal highway safety funds and 10% of its appropriation for highway construction for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1971.

'Trying To Find Out'

"We're trying to find out whether we're actually going to lose money," Budd said. "And we're trying to analyze also how far beyond the federal minimum regulations we actually are."

The Nebraska City lawmaker said he hopes the matter will be handled in "an expeditious manner."

He noted that inspection stations have invested heavily in new equipment to carry out the testing program and "we must keep faith with these people."

Bill To Make 20 Adulthood Age Passes First Test

The Legislature gave initial approval Tuesday to a bill which would reduce the age at which a person becomes a full adult in Nebraska from 21 to 20.

The approval on a 19-1 vote came after the lawmakers had shorn from the bill a committee amendment which would have reduced the age to 19 rather than 20. The vote to reject the amendment was 22-7.

The bill is sponsored by State Sen. Elvin Adamson of Valentine, who also has introduced a constitutional amendment to lower the voting age to 20.

"One of the things that bothered me last year when we were voting whether to lower the voting age to 19 was that the age of majority was to remain at 21," he told the Unicameral. "These bills would lower both the voting age and the age of majority, giving these people the responsibilities as well as the rights of adulthood."

Also given first round approval was a bill to allow two or more counties to consolidate their offices. The bill, which is permissive legislation, was made possible by a constitutional amendment approved by Nebraska voters last fall.

Scotts Bluff County Officials Report Reappraisal Contract To Be Signed

State Tax Commissioner Murrell B. McNeil said Tuesday Scotts Bluff County officials have notified him they will sign a contract by March 10 to have the county reappraised.

A state law enacted in 1963 required that the county contract for the reappraisal by last Jan. 1, but county officials did not ask for bids on the contract by that date.

State Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff said the reappraisal is not needed in Scotts Bluff County. He introduced a resolution and a bill in the Legislature designed to remove the obligation from Scotts Bluff County but then asked that the resolution be killed since he introduced it only "to buy time."

McNeil said "no problem" exists now and that his office will take no action in the case. He said he talked with officials in the county earlier this year and they said they wanted to wait until March 3 to open bids in order to get the best possible bids.

He said he agreed to this and that the bids will be opened March 3 and the contract awarded March 10.

A warm blue day in Jamaica. We drove out along the north shore — a rented English Ford costs $86 a week. Worth it, for you can find an inexpensive guest house.

The Jamaica resort hotels run in the $50 to $70 a day class.

With a little wheeled shopping around Montego Bay, we lucked into Mrs. Golding's Golden Villa—$14 a day for two with breakfast. The fruit is superb. And Jamaica's Blue Mountain coffee is the best in the world.

☆ ☆ ☆

It's a leisurely couple of hours ride along the north shore. A blue ocean. The sea of sugar cane turns from green to gray as the wind ruffles it.

Rose Hall has been rebuilt. By a rich man from Dallas, I heard. We didn't go up—you can see it from the road.

This is where Annie Palmer lived — "and torment de slaves, sah."

She tortured one too many and was killed by a witch doctor. An obeah man they call them here.

☆ ☆ ☆

"Plenty obeah man left, sah," said the raft man at Port Antonio. He knew about Annie Palmer. "She cahn turn to little bird." Annie had some witch going for herself.

That was long ago, in 1760. But Annie's ghost can still turn your ankle.

Only two floors of the stone Great House still stood when I first came to Jamaica. The empty eye socket windows looking toward the sea.

But now it's rebuilt. I liked it better the other way. Empty in the Jamaica sun, filled with mystery.

☆ ☆ ☆

We've been rafting down the Rio Grande, bare feet in the water. "But you must watch out for crocodiles, sah," said the captain.

Like most of Jamaica he's black as a cat at midnight.

"Out of Many, One People," says the motto on the Jamaican coat-of-arms. The island has become independent of Great Britain. They put everything on the coat-of-arms but a maraschino cherry.

A St. George Cross. A pair of Indians carrying fruit and spears. It's all topped with a crocodile — possibly the one that is eyeing my bare tootsies.

☆ ☆ ☆

Race relations in free Jamaica seem to be as good as any place in the world.

That's the opinion, too, of the novelist Peter Abrahams, a black South African married to a white woman.

He looked all over the world carefully for a tolerable place to settle. He chose Jamaica.

Not so always. The Maroons who live in the wild Cockpit country are descended from runaway slaves. They fought the British so fiercely that the colonial government finally made a treaty with them.

"Cahn do obeah t'ings, sah. Dose Maroon mahn," said the raft man.

Everybody comes to Port Antonio to ride the bamboo rafts. It's an old banana port. United Fruit built the first luxury hotel here.

Now it's been passed by swank Ocho Rios and hotels at Montego Bay. But oldtimers think Port Antonio has more character. And surely the most magnificent scenery on this scenic island.

☆ ☆ ☆

Errol Flynn used to spend a lot of time here. Naturally, the raft captain knew him.

"He like fishing and drinking," he said. "And de girls, sah. Girls cahn be more dangerous than de crocodile."

There's a fancy Playboy Club hotel at Ocho Rios with chocolate bunnies. At Doctor's Cave beach you can see some of the prettiest Jamaica girls. A black girl in a white bikini beside a painter's blue sea is a sight to see.

We got bottles of Red Stripe beer. The raft captain said: "De girl don't look dangerous, sah. Same wit' de crocodile—until he show de teeth.

"You remember Annie Palmer, sah. She was dangerous like de snake."

Stock Market's Decline Curbed

New York (AP) —The orders were piled up and waiting when the stock market opened Tuesday, and the carry-over selling sent the averages into a tailspin.

About midway in the session the brakes were applied. Recovery, sparked by bargain hunters, rolled the Dow Barometer back almost five points just before the close. But the Dow eased in final trading to close down 6.90 at 930.82.

"We'll have a more regular market Wednesday," one observer said. "But it will be cautious."

Volume Tuesday was 12.49 million shares, compared with 11.67 traded Monday.

Reasons for the loss?

Same as Monday, except reaction to Monday's selling can be added, analysts said.

They cited the over-all picture of tight money, with the recurring fear that banks might raise their lending rates.

The possibility of the extension of the surtax beyond its June 30 cutoff date.

Also, there was the congressional interest in the activities of conglomerates. This class led the most-active list in the retreat Monday and Tuesday.

In the averages, Dow rails were off 4.31, utilities were down 1.22 and 65 stocks were off 3.61. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined 4.5 to 350.7 Industrials fell 5.4, rails fell 3.8 and utilities eased 1.4.

On the New York Exchange, declines paced advances by almost six-to-one.

Sinclair took the biggest loss. It closed down 1734 to 9414. Its proposed merger with Atlantic Richfield was stalled by an injunction Monday. Atlantic dropped almost 2 points in reaction and British Petroleum, on the American Exchange, dropped more than a point. BP was to have bought a block of domestic service stations from the merged companies.

Prices fell on the American Exchange. The index closed down .48 at 31.56. Declines led advances about eight-to-one. Volume was 6.83 million compared with 5.54 million Monday.

EVERYBODY'S MONEY:

Complete Review Urged Of Antipoverty Programs

By Merryle S. Rukeyser

MERRYLE RUKEYSER

Termed Suckerbait

If the new Nixon administration feels a political necessity to perpetuate all the blue sky statutes previously introduced, it will be stymied on its major goal of problem solving.

The whole promise of the previous administration to wage "a war on poverty" is conceived in suckerbait, and the whole setup should be re-evaluated.

The American economic system, based on incentives and on improved productive techniques to supplement the human muscle with mechanical power—kilowatts of electricity—, has gone further than any regimen in the world to enable industrious persons to receive more and better goods in exchange for a week's work.

Concurrently the great financial institutions—the life insurance companies, the savings banks, the mutual funds, the closed-end investment companies, and the common trust funds, as well as investment houses—have made yeoman's strides in warring against poverty, through encouraging people to discipline themselves by conserving seed corn, that is, by fostering a willingness to consume a little less than produced, saving the difference as a capital fund for old age and other contingencies.

Increased Production

Demogoguery to the contrary notwithstanding, the American achievements in better living standards could not have been attained by the Marxian arithmetic of dividing up what we have. The great sociological strides were based on increasing production of goods and services, out of which the division was made. Government can do very little toward lifting material well-being; its role is robbing Peter to pay Paul through redistributing existing wealth.

The country has been hoodwinked by the fallacies of Marxians, on the one hand, and by non-Marxian "do-gooders" and social workers, on the other, who think that affluence can be achieved without effort by punishing some groups. Under Lenin the Soviet Union undertook to eliminate the cost of capital, that is, the cost incidental to the wearing out of tools of production and other facilities, by the simple act of shooting capitalists. But even with the purges, capital goods still wear out.

It is falling into a Marxian booby trap to talk about "the rich and the poor." Over here, we define the poverty level for a family of four at an income below around $3,350 a year. In parts of India, Latin America and elsewhere, the same amount of purchasing power might represent relative affluence. Even the wretched and deplorable rat-ridden slums of Harlem and elsewhere are far better than the conditions in Calcutta, Delhi and Bombay where many sleep on streets.

In this country, it takes less money income to maintain a given standard of living in the South, where there are no fuel bills and heavy winter clothing is unneeded, than in numerous cold centers of the North.

Tangible Progress

We will make tangible progress when we eschew emotional fallacies and make a businesslike and realistic approach. Instead of using loose terms about the underprivileged and the disadvantaged, we should undertake to call a spade a spade, and take a hard look at persons of relatively low productivity. Once a diagnosis has been made, it should be feasible without excessive ballyhoo to apply remedies.

Men and women can be made more productive by better motivation, by retraining along skills currently in demand, and by sincere recognition of individual differences.

Even the Johnson Council of Economic Advisers in their swan song raised the question whether rigid minimum wage laws were not depriving the less productive of an opportunity to get jobs. It would make more sense to let employers pay such workers what they are capable of producing, and have their income supplemented by public grants in lieu of current soul-destroying welfare payments for idleness.

The Nixon Administration should examine a thoughtful audit of "antipoverty programs" recently made by the Tax Foundation. The foundation leaned over backwards to conclude that the "real worth or failure of programs under the four-and-one-half year old Economic Opportunity Act remains to be proved." In some directions, in addition to waste of taxpayer funds, positive harm has been done. The survey points out: that some local officials, on occasion, believed that the Community Action Program "represented a very real threat to the maintenance of authority and local power position of elected urban mayors and county councils."

(Mr. Rukeyser will be pleased to receive inquiries from readers concerning their financial problems. Letters with stamped, self addressed envelopes should be sent in care of The Lincoln Star. Questions of general interest will be answered in the column. Others, to the extent time permits, will be handled by mail.)

Biafran Sympathizers Begin Bid To Focus Public Opinion

By JOAN LOOKER
Star Staff Writer

A movement to mobilize public opinion to urge the United States government to do something about the starving Biafrans was begun Tuesday night in Lincoln at the reorganizational meeting of the Committee to Keep Biafrans Alive.

The committee decided to approach the community through talk programs, newspaper ads and a speakers committee. The result of the public education will be a signature campaign and a letter campaign to urge American governmental officials to do something about the starvation problem.

It is no longer possible to fly in food to the Biafrans, Jerry Davis, former Peace Corps volunteer who worked in Biafran relief agencies, said. It is not a "crash program" any more, he said. A cease fire is the only possible solution.

Planes Fired At

The war has gone on longer than anyone anticipated and now all of the aid planes are being fired on, he said.

The proteins that were being flown in to keep the people alive from day to day are no longer adequate, because now they have run out of carbohydrates. The yam crop has been harvested and eaten, so there is no source of carbohydrates in the country, he said.

Carbohydrates are impractical to haul in airplanes, so the only solution is to effect a cease fire, so the food can be taken in by road, he said.

One Million Die

The carbohydrates ran out January 1; since then one million on the verge of starvation have died, he said. In a three-month period it is expected that "four million of the ten million Biafrans," will die.

International intervention is essential or the people will starve to death, he said. It would be necessary to send in 60,000 tons of carbohydrates a month to keep the people alive.

"A cease fire is impossible unless America intervenes," Davis said. United States is respected in Africa and they perhaps could force the countries to affect a cease fire, he said.

Conference Doubted

"There is much doubt that Biafra and Nigeria will come to the conference table without outside pressure," John Anaza, a Biafran student at the University of Nebraska, said.

He said the problems arose from basic differences in the tribes, languages, religions and social milieu of the Biafrans and the Nigerians.

The group decided the only effective measure would be to urge action on the part of the government. The next meeting is March 3 at 7:30 p.m. in the Lincoln Center Building.

Last Fall University and high school students and faculty raised one-half of the $6,000 collected in Lincoln for the Biafran people.

A. C. GLANDT

Glandt New President Of Country Club

A. C. Glandt was elected president of the Lincoln Country Club Tuesday night at the group's annual business meeting.

Others elected were Edward M. (Teddy) O'Shea, vice president; Charles Wright, treasurer, and Louis Roper, secretary.

Also on the board are Dr. Paul L. Peterson, John Olsson, Charles L. Boswell, Paul Hyland and James Swanson.

Rogers May Quit Welfare Dept. Position

State Welfare Director Harold Rogers said Tuesday he expects to have a decision Wednesday on his possible resignation.

Rogers Tuesday confirmed reports he was considering resigning from the $18,000 a year post.

The former Douglas County Welfare director took his state office in January, 1968.

Rogers said that when he accepted the post he decided to continue living in Ralston, but has found that commuting has worked a hardship on his family.

The Welfare Department is one of the largest in state government.

Gov Norbert Tiemann's recommended Welfare Department budget for the 1967-71 biennium calls for spending $105.7 million — $70.6 million in federal funds.

Two Charged With Spying For Israelis

Cairo (AP) — Two Egyptians arrested last November were officially charged Tuesday with espionage for Israel.

They are Munior Abdel Ghani, a photographer, and Aly Mahmoud, until his arrest an editor in the Cairo bureau of The Associated Press.

The government's official spokesman, Mohamed Hassal el Zayyat, said the charges against Mahmoud do not involve the AP's Cairo bureau nor Mahmoud's work for AP.

Both men were arrested Nov. 28 as Ghani prepared to board a plane for Geneva.

The prosecution is seeking the death penalty. It said the men will be tried before a state security tribunal headed by Judge Anwar Wahsh and including two civilian judges and two colonels. No date was set.

John H. Shaffer Picked By Nixon To Direct FAA

Washington (UPI) — President Nixon's choice to be head of the Federal Aviation Administration is John H. Shaffer, aerospace industry official, onetime jet pilot and lifelong Republican, sources said Tuesday.

Shaffer, 49, currently a vice president for TRW Inc., a major aerospace and auto parts manufacturer, would replace David D. Thomas, acting administrator of the FAA. Thomas has been in the top job there since Gen. William F. McKee resigned late last year.

Shaffer would take over the FAA, one of the agencies that makes up the Transportation Department, in the midst of growing controversy over airport and airway congestion and air safety — all problems generated by the boom in air travel.

DeGaulle Writes Ike

Washington (UPI) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower received a letter from French President Charles de Gaulle and telephoned President Nixon at the White House to inform him of it. There was no indication from informed sources that the letter contained anything other than an expression of good wishes from one elder statesman to another. Eisenhower is at Walter Reed Army Medical Center.

Mayo Intends U.S. Military Budget Study

New York Times Service

Washington — President Nixon's new budget director, Robert P. Mayo, told Congress Tuesday that he intended to take a "skeptical look" at all proposals for military spending, implying a more rigorous Budget Bureau review than has been the case up to now.

Mayo told the Joint Economic Committee of Congress that he had named a new assistant director, James Schlesinger, formerly of the Rand Corp., "to advise me on this very subject." The bureau has "competent analysts and program people," Mayo said, but "we need something more than that."

In his prepared statement, Mayo disclosed several developments that will probably reduce, and possibly eliminate, the $2.4 billion budget surplus estimated by former President Johnson for the current fiscal year.

The developments:

—Higher interest rates than expected have pushed up interest payments on the national debt "significantly."

—The generally tight credit situation might mean that private banks will hold a lower volume of farm price support loans, meaning that the government will have to make the loans itself.

—The new administration has already announced an increase of $168 million in advance payments to farmers under the feed grain program on the ground that the abrupt cutoff of advance payments by the Johnson administration had imposed an "unjust burden" on farmers.

—Receipts from off-shore oil leasing, which count as an offset against expenditures, "appear to be falling short of Interior Department estimates."

—Revenues will be lower by as much as $500 million because the extension of the 10% income tax surcharge will not come in time to "catch" corporations' estimated taxes in April and, perhaps, in June.

Nebraska Air National Guard Is Rated Okay

The Nebraska Air National Guard received a "satisfactory" rating on its annual federal inspection completed last weekend, according to Col. Fred H. Bailey Jr., commander of the 155th Tactical Photo Reconnaissance Group.

"This rating means that our organization is capable of performing its assigned mission," Col. Bailey said, noting that the mission is a tactical photo reconnaissance assignment.

Some 35 officers and airmen were included in the inspection team from Headquarters, 12th Air Force, Bergstrom Air Force Base, Texas.

Youth Does Some Spying For Father

Medford, Ore. (AP) — The young boy seemed so interested that the state police officer showing a group of boy scouts through the police office took particular pains to answer his questions.

After several about the radar gear used to detect speeders, the officer asked: "Interested in electronics, are you, son?"

"No," the boy replied, "my dad is a logging truck driver and he wanted to know how good the radar is."

Airline Sued For Sexual Discrimination

Miami (AP) — Celio Diaz Jr. of Miami, contending he can mix a martini as well as any stewardess, has filed suit to force Pan American Airways to hire him as a male steward.

Diaz said he was denied a job because of his sex and that's a violation of his equal job opportunity provisions of the Civil Rights Act.

The suit, filed in federal court by attorney Robert Burns, said the U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission had heard Diaz' complaint and agreed he had a point.

Diaz is asking for a job plus back wages, seniority and sick leave from the day he was first turned down by Pan American.

The airline had no comment.

Patman Attacks Bitterly

New York Times Service

Washington — Proposals ranging from outright revocation of tax-exemption to the reliance on a voluntary code of ethics to prevent abuses were made Tuesday as the House Ways and Means Committee opened hearings on tax-exempt foundations.

A bitter attack on foundations came from Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., the committee's first witness and a long-time foundation critic, who proposed imposition of a flat 20% tax on all foundation income, except contributions.

Patman said that to be able to afford to pay these taxes foundations would need only to give up what he termed "foundation foolishness" — the making of grants for "the development of trivia into nonsense."

Medieval Tombstones

As an example of such a grant he cited the study financed by the Bollingen Foundation into "the origin and significance of the decorative type of medieval tombstones in Bosnia and Herzegovina."

The Bollingen Foundation is "a creation of the Mellon banking family of Pittsburgh," Patman said, and "if the Mellons are more interested in medieval tombstones than in Pittsburgh poverty . that is the Mellon's affair.

"However, there is no obligation upon either the Congress or the American citizenry to give the Mellons tax-free dollars to finance their exotic interests."

Operating Expenses

The operating expenses of some foundations, as well as the subject-matter of their grants, came under criticism from Patman. The foundations will be given opportunity to state their positions later in the hearings.

He said studies made by his small business subcommittee, which has been investigating foundations for eight years, indicated that imposing a 20% tax on the gross income of foundations would raise $200 million annually.

Patman also proposed that no foundation be permitted to own more than three per cent of the stock of any corporation and that foundations be required to disburse all of their net income annually.

Senator Takes Own Advice; He'll Retire

Washington (UPI) — Sen. John J. Williams, 65, firm believer in mandatory retirement ages for federal lawmakers and judges, announced Tuesday he will step down from the Senate at the end of his term.

The Delaware Republican who gained respect as a persistent watchdog on spending during his 23 years in the Senate said all senators should retire when they reach 65.

He said members of the House ought to retire at 68 and federal judges should be forced to quit at age 70.

Williams also said these retirement ages should be written into the Constitution through an amendment.

At Least 35 Die In Fiery Wreck

Mexico City (AP) — A bus and a truck loaded with tins of alcohol collided west of Mexico City Tuesday and at least 35 persons died in the burning wreckage, reports said.

The bus was on a run from Guadalajara to Manzanillo, a Pacific coast port.

Soviets Oppose W. German Participation In U.N. Program

United Nations (UPI) — Soviet Ambassador Jacob A. Malik said Tuesday the Soviet Union would refuse to participate in a worldwide U.N. development program for underdeveloped nations if West Germany was allowed to take part.

Malik, in the first news conference here by a Russian ambassador in 2½ years, also attacked West Germany for what he called its "illegal" attempt to hold its presidential elections in West Berlin March 5.

But he said the U.N. issue and the latest crisis over West Berlin were not linked.

Most of the news conference was devoted to what Malik called an "ultimatum" by West Germany's allies to get Bonn represented on a 54-nation committee set up by the General Assembly to prepare the United Nations' second development decade for the 1970s.

The committee would draw up broad guidelines for economic development planning and assistance through U.N. facilities. There was a similar plan for the 1960s and this committee would attempt to avoid the errors of the first decade.

Bliss To Quit Republican Chairmanship

Washington (UPI) — The White House announced Tuesday that Ray C. Bliss would resign in mid-April as Republican national chairman.

Reason given was his desire to re-enter private business, but it was reported he felt his ideas of party administration conflicted with President Nixon's.

There was speculation that the post would go to Rep. Rogers C. B. Morton of Maryland. Murray Chotiner, an old Nixon political ally from California, or Bud Wilkinson, former Oklahoma football coach who now serves as a White House consultant.

Bliss's announced resignation came as a surprise.

On Jan. 10 in New York, Nixon asked Bliss to remain on the job and the GOP chairman said he would. Later last month, when the GOP National Committee met in Washington, it unanimously backed Bliss for another term.

The White House said Tuesday Bliss had informed Nixon of his intention to submit his resignation at a meeting of the national committee here in mid-April.

Plane Vanishes; 35 Were Aboard

Hawthorne, Nev. (AP) — A plane carrying 35 persons back to Southern California after a night of Nevada gambling vanished Tuesday in the mountainous desert of the California-Nevada border some 200 miles north of Los Angeles.

An all-day ground hunt in a drizzling overcast produced no clues, and only one search plane was able to get aloft.

Police Fire On Students In Pakistan

Karachi, Pakistan (AP) — Police fired twice on student demonstrators Tuesday to quell spreading anti-government riots in East Pakistan and at least two persons were killed.

Hours later opposition leaders announced they had postponed a scheduled meeting with President Mohammad Ayub Khan aimed at ending the crisis.

Among those killed was a university president who was pleading with students to return to their dormitories.

The shootings were at Rajshahi, about 100 miles west of Dacca.

The army was called out and around-the-clock curfew was imposed.

Thousands of persons surged into the streets in defiance of the curfew and clashed openly with army troops on patrol. Firing was heard throughout the city.

Senate Votes Down Fund Cut For Hunger Study

© New York Times Service

Washington — The Senate struck down Tuesday the $100,000 cut that its Rules Committee had made in the budget of Sen. George S. McGovern's committee investigating hunger and malnutrition.

After three hours of speeches, nearly all of them favoring the original $250,000 authorization for the inquiry, the 40% reduction was restored by voice vote. No more than a half-dozen senators could be heard calling "no."

The action reflected both growing national concern over hunger as a social and political issue and the receding influence of the Southern and farm blocs in the Senate. Members of these groups have been critical of the initial efforts of the McGovern committee, known officially as the Senate Select Committee on Nutrition and Human Needs.

Widespread Hunger

A few hours earlier, at a hearing of the committee, Sen. Ernest F. Hollings, D-S.C., became one of the first political leaders from the Deep South to acknowledge openly both the existence of widespread hunger among his constituents and his own share of the responsibility for it.

Hollings, who has been touring some of the poorest urban and rural areas in his home state, said that when he had been governor he had supported "the public policy of covering up the problem of hunger" in the interest of attracting new industry and creating jobs.

"I know the need for jobs, but what I am talking about here to this committee is downright hunger," he said. "The people I saw couldn't possibly work."

Late To Problem

The senator also confessed that "as a public official, I am late to the problem." But he insisted that his conversion should not be interpreted as raising either a racial or a political issue. South Carolina's hunger is both white and Negro, he said.

"Many is the time that my friends have pointed a finger and said, 'Look at that dumb Negro,' " Hollings declared. "The charge too often is accurate — he is dumb. But not because of the color of his skin. He is dumb because we denied him food. Dumb in infancy, he has been blighted for life."

Only two senators took the floor against the $100,000 restoration. Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb., said he thought the McGovern committee was the wrong vehicle for such a big project.

"A charge has been made against America around the world," Curtis said, referring to reports about hunger in the United States. "We can't get the answer this way."

Agricultural Programs

Sen. Spessard L. Holland, D-Fla., questioned the prospect that the McGovern committee might get involved in some agricultural programs outside what he saw as its jurisdiction.

Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., proposed giving the McGovern committee $165,000 — more than the Rules Committee's $150,000 but far less that the eventual $250,000. His proposal was defeated by a voice vote.

A surprise supporter of the higher authorization was Sen. Harry F. Byrd Jr., D-Va., who is normally an advocate of government economy. He said he thought the problem was too serious to cut the committee's budget.

Ask To Scale Peak

Katmandu, Nepal (AP) — A group of Japanese alpinists are seeking Nepal's consent to scale Mt. Everest, the world's tallest peak. But official sources are not sure whether permission will be granted. Nepal is sensitive about allowing foreign teams to climb Everest and other peaks adjacent to Communist Chinese-occupied Tibet in the north.
